

TELEPHONE YOUR News to 235; Business to 206 for Satisfactory Results

Coshocton Tribune

THE WEATHER
FOR OHIO—Fair tonight and Thursday; little change in temperature.

FULL INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE NEWS REPORT

AND TIMES-AGE

CIRCULATION BOOKS OPEN TO ALL

VOL. XIII, NO. 317.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1922.

THREE CENTS

MINERS' UNIONS WILL WITHDRAW PUMPERS AND GUARDS IN EVENT STRIKEBREAKERS ARE EMPLOYED

Notice Served Upon Operators Whose Property Is Being Protected By Unions Is Reply To Harding's Command That Mines Be Operated Under Troop Protection—Miners Will Not Fight
The Army, Says Lewis

WILKERSON SUCCEEDS
JUDGE LANDIS

James H. Wilkerson, formerly U. S. District Attorney and prominent legal authority of Chicago, has been appointed to the Federal bench in that city, succeeding K. M. Landis, who resigned to become supreme baseball commissioner.

POLICE AT BERLIN ARE BRINGING OUT HIDDEN MUNITIONS

Five Hundred Machine Guns At Potsdam Are Blamed On Rebels
REVOLT IS FEARED

BERLIN, July 19.—Large stores of arms and ammunition which have been secreted in various parts of Germany are being unearthed, it was revealed today. A big cache of arms, including dum dum bullets, has just been located at Potsdam.

It was reported from Stuttgart that the inter-armed military control commission has found 500 machine guns which had been hidden there.

It is reported that some of the arms and ammunition had been collected for revolutionary purposes. President Reichter, of the Berlin police department, said that he believed a number of arrests will be made within the next few days in connection with the assassination of Dr. Walter Rathenau, late foreign secretary.

Interest in the murder of the former foreign secretary has been revived by the suicide of the two actual assassins, Herman Fischer and Erwin Kern, at Castle Saaleck, in Middle Germany. The Socialists are trying to make unprecedented political capital of the killing of Rathenau. They are continually reiterating the assertion that Nationalists (Monarchists) have laid wide plans for the revolution.

The police are not convinced that a revolutionary plot was responsible for the assassination of Rathenau. According to the statement of a police officer the plot was hatched in the brain of a 17-year-old school boy named Hans Stubenrach. There are now twenty-five persons in jail in connection with the assassination of Rathenau.

PICNIC AND FIELD DAY PLANNED BY 22 JUNIOR CLUBS

One of the biggest junior outing events of the summer will likely be the Boys' and Girls' Picnic and Field Day meet at the fairgrounds Saturday afternoon, July 29.

Twenty-two clubs in the county will participate. Many interesting athletic events are planned by the program committee.

The program will include games, tournaments, field day sports, and address.

Married While Drunk, Judge Grants Divorce

DETROIT, July 19.—Sergeant Henry Brown, employed at the local marine recruiting office, has received an honorable discharge from matrimony. Judge Jayne granted him an uncontested divorce from Pearl Brown. Brown testified he had married Pearl during a wild party at El Paso in 1916.

"I awoke one morning with a headache and a wife," he said. "We lived together three months and then she ran away. I haven't seen her since."

LIVING COST IS AGAIN ON RISE, REPORT PROVES

June Quotations Show Advance Of 1.33 Per Cent Over May

FARMERS SUFFER
General Level Is Five Per Cent Higher Than A Year Ago

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The cost of living is again on the rise. It took another jump upward in June, the department of labor announced today in reporting that wholesale prices for June were 1.33 per cent above May. And May prices had increased 3 1/2 per cent over April.

Largest price gains were reported for fuel and building materials, in each of which groups the June level was over four per cent higher than that of May. No change in the price level was shown for chemicals and drugs and home furnishing goods.

Farm products, on the contrary, due to declines in grains, hay and eggs, decreased three fourths of one per cent in average price from May to June. While the group of miscellaneous commodities, due largely to the drop in cattle feed prices, decreased 1.34 per cent. Of 404 commodities for which comparable data for May and June were obtained by the department's statisticians increases were found to have occurred of 123 commodities and decreases for 106 commodities. In comparing prices in June with those of a year ago the figures show that the general level has increased over 5 1/2 per cent. The greatest increase is shown for fuel and lighting materials, in which prices have risen nearly 18 per cent.

STANDEN HOTEL TO BE CONVERTED INTO MODERN APT. HOUSE

Plans and specifications were being made Wednesday by the engineering firm of Taylor & Owens, for the remodeling of the old Standen Hotel, at Sixth and Walnut sts.

The general specifications call for six store rooms on the first floor of the building. On the second and third floors, three and four room apartments will be laid out.

As soon as the plans are completed, the contract for the work of remodeling will be let, and work started immediately.

When completed, it is believed that the old hotel will be one of the most modern apartment houses in the city. The remodeling of the first floor will make six more business rooms available, and will tend to increase the business in that section materially. A battery shop, a tire shop, the hotel lobby, a one-table pool room, and a bakery now occupy the first floor of the building.

DESPONDENT MAN'S MORALE RISES WITH NEW DAY; LIVES ON

CINCINNATI, July 19.—On Saturday night Harry Hagelbush sat in a rooming house on Garfield place and addressed a letter to John Hagelbush, mayor of Ashely, Ill., calling him "Dear Brother" and telling him he had decided to commit suicide on Tuesday.

Two Cincinnati detectives arrived out of breath at the rooming house Tuesday night after receiving a long distance call from Ashely. Hagelbush's door yielded to their determined shoulders and there stood their man, an open razor poised near his throat.

Thru the latter on his face Hagelbush explained that he had written the letter, but felt so good next morning he changed his mind about killing himself and was just shaving to go out when the officers burst in on him.

HARDING APPOINTS CALIFORNIA WOMAN

Mrs. A. B. Spreckles and Her Children

Mrs. A. B. Spreckles, of San Francisco, has been appointed by the President to be a special representative of the Department of Labor, and commissioned to investigate conditions among women in industry in Europe. The appointment is similar to that of the late Lillian Russell (Mrs. Alexander P. Moore), who also investigated immigration conditions for the department.

LENINE AGAIN IS FOUND RECOVERING DESPITE MURDER

Russian Premier's Death Refuses To Occur In Spite Of Enemies

MOSCOW, July 19.—The report of the murder of Nicolai Lenine, which apparently originated in Copenhagen is untrue, it was established today by International News Service. M. Kamenoff, president of the Moscow local Soviet, said he had visited Lenine three days ago and found him improving in health. Lenine is still living in his villa in the country near Moscow. "I was much pleased to see the speedy recovery Lenine is making," said Kamenoff. "He walks in the garden of his home and discusses affairs of state with his friends and advisers. However, he will be unable to resume his full duties for several weeks."

THREE CITIES JOIN IN KIWANIS FROLIC, TUSCORA, AUG. 10

The picnic which has been planned by the local Kiwanis club for Thursday, August 10, at Tuscora park, will be a tri-city Kiwanis event. It was announced Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club, by Reid Wikin, chairman of the committee in charge of the picnic.

The Kiwanis clubs of New Philadelphia and Dover have agreed to meet with the local Kiwanis club at the park on that day. The local members and their families will leave Coshocton in automobiles at one o'clock. The afternoon will be spent in games and contests between the members of the three clubs, and at six o'clock a picnic dinner will be served. In the evening there will be dancing at the park. The arrangements that have been made for the affair indicate that it will be most successful.

Clarence Linsenmeyer favored the club members Wednesday with several vocal selections. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Lois Bradford. Miss Kerma Bradford entertained the club with a clever reading.

The Kiwanians Wednesday pledged themselves to individual assessments, for the purpose of providing a preliminary fund to be used next year in supplying milk to undernourished school children.

The club did some of this work during the latter part of the past school term, and it was believed that much good was accomplished. Half-pint bottles of milk were furnished to a large number of school children that had been declared undernourished, after a physical examination.

The expense is rather heavy for the 50 or 60 members of the club, but they plan to add to their preliminary fund by revenue from entertainments to be given after school opens.

Is Unimproved

No change for the better was noticed Wednesday in the condition of John Eckelberry, of West Lafayette, who is suffering from stomach trouble.

Licensed To Marry

Charles Cox, 36, miner, Conesville and Mrs. Marie E. Larr, 32, Conesville.

DEVELOPMENTS COME SLOWLY IN RAIL STRIKE WITH MAINTENANCE OF WAY BROTHERH'D HESITATING

Curfew Tolls Knell Of Freedom For This Girl

ALLEGAN, Mich., July 19.—Agnes Allen, nineteen and pretty, when she completes sixty days in the county jail will face two years in prison if she does not harken to the curfew bell at 9 o'clock each night.

Judge John Cross, in sentencing the girl for violation of the liquor laws, made her probationary period of two years subject to her being off the street at 9 each night. Agnes is making plans for a lot of beauty sleep.

REV. CULP GOES TO WORKHOUSE; PLANS TO UPLIFT INMATES

Receives Year's Sentence
For Desertion; Faces
Other Charges

DAYTON, July 19.—Walter Wilson Culp, Spring Valley parson, who took a flier into the realms of free love with Esther Hughes, today began his sentence in the Dayton workhouse of one year abandoning his wife and nine children.

Culp was also fined $500 and costs. He still faces the charge of moving and disposing of a mortgaged automobile.

He will be put to work in the truck patch. Culp says he expects to go straight and do what he can for the moral uplift of those around and about him.

The girl in the case is believed to be at a summer resort along the lakes. Her father is expected to press charges under the Mann act, according to statements he has recently made.

DEPUTIES GUARD STRIKE BREAKERS IN OHIO SHOPS

CLEVELAND, O., July 19.—With thirty-two United States marshals to be sworn in and placed on duty today, active steps have been taken by United States Marshal George L. Stauffer to carry out the provisions of injunctions recently issued by Judge D. C. Westenhaver in federal court, protecting railroad employees here and at Lima, Kent, Gallon, Painesville, Lorain, Fairport Harbor, Willard and other points in the state where violence has occurred in connection with the strike of shopcrafts men.

Marshal Stauffer warned his new deputies that they were on duty for one purpose alone, to see that orders of the court restraining strikers from interfering with men who remained at work—were obeyed.

At headquarters of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen here, it was said that these organizations are being flooded with complaints from members that they are being asked to take out trains in bad condition.

RAY'S OF HOPE PIERCE GLOOM HANGING OVER NAT'L INDUSTRY

Settlement Moves In Twin Strike Situation
Meet No Barrier

SITUATION TENSE

Operators Split Into Two Factions On The New Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The deep shade of indigo blue that has enshrouded official Washington for the last two weeks in its unsuccessful efforts to grapple with the twin industrial menaces presented by the coal and rail strikes was penetrated today by a few sunny rays of optimism.

On top of hopeful messages from Chicago that the rail strike is yielding steadily to settlement, it became known here that tentative peace feelers have passed between the warring camps of miners and operators in Washington.

Cabinet officers in touch with all sides of the industrial turmoil described the situation as "still tense, but hopeful."

The eleventh hour move toward peace originated, it is understood, on the part of a considerable number of operators who are privately pessimistic over the prospects of mining coal with volunteer workers, even under the protection of the federal and state troops.

They are operators also who have always dealt with the United Mine Workers, whose districts are strongly organized and who, from the first, have favored a conciliatory policy toward the union.

Messages have passed between them and union officials remaining in Washington and it is understood that John L. Lewis, head of the mine workers sent back word that so far (Continued on Page Eight)

NEW LOCATION PROPOSED FOR MEEK BRIDGE

The condition of the south pier of the Meek bridge across Willis creek, a short distance south of the hamlet of the same name is such as to occasion serious alarm, according to a report made Wednesday by a resident of that vicinity.

He reported that the south pier was leaning at a dangerous angle and that some of the heavy stones of which the pier is constructed, are loose and ready to fall.

The bridge has been barricaded and condemned by the county commissioners, but the barricades have been torn down, and traffic is proceeding across it as usual, it is said. It is said that in its present condition it is believed the pier will collapse before spring.

Slight repairs were made on the pier recently, by the county maintenance crew. One of the big stones immediately supporting the bridge was (Continued on Page Eight)

SIX COSHOCTON MEN TO TAKE TRAINING AT CAMP KNOX, KY.

An official list of the men who have been chosen to attend the 1922 Citizen's Military Training Camp was received in Coshocton Wednesday morning.

Included in the list are the names of six Coshocton men, one Millersburg man, and two from Newcomers-town.

The chosen applicants will leave their homes in time to report at Camp Knox, Kentucky, August 1. Upon their arrival there they will be enrolled for duty as students in the C. M. T. C.

The successful applicants from Coshocton, according to the list, are Luther E. Counts, 1216 Chestnut-st., Edward Vedy, 215 south Second-st., Merwyn Harlan Binnins, 375 south Ninth-st., Clayton Brewer, and Dallas Dalton Brewer, 1142 Orchard-st., and Francis G. Dunbar, 245 west Eleventh-st.

The Newcomers-town men who were chosen are Willard Leslie Jones, 328 Beam-av and Russell Appleton MacQueen.

Olus E. Woodruff will go to Camp Knox from Millersburg.

FRESNO WOMEN'S BALL TEAM TAKE MEASURE OF ACTRESSES TUESDAY

The woman's baseball nine of Fresno will cross bats with the H. Ray Snedeker Stock Co., nine on the Fresno diamond again this evening.

Tuesday evening the Fresno aggregation defeated the Stock Co. team on the Fresno diamond by a score of 12 to 5.

Miss Alva Schmalz and Mrs. Maude Preston will form the Fresno women's battery.

15¢

You don't need a thirst to enjoy

Budweiser

Everywhere

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC., ST. LOUIS
Centennial Bottling Works Distributors
Coshocton, Ohio

ITALY IS SEETHING WITH PARTY POLITICS

Various Groups Strive For Control In Parlia- ment Of Government

By CLARA WOLD, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

ROME, July 17.—One never hears an Italian say he is not interested in politics. He might as well say that he doesn't care whether or not he has lights in his house tonight—that it makes no difference to him if trains, street cars and carozzas do not run to-morrow; that the mere matter of getting the news and the post this week or next does not interest him. For it is with these essentials that the politics of Italy deal

"POPULAR FOR GENERATIONS"
PLANTER'S
C & C OR BLACK
CAPSULES
A Preparation of COMPOUND COPAIBA AND CUBES
—AT YOUR DRUGGIST—
Ask for BY NAME ONLY, avoid Substitution

Can't Land Big Ones With Pin Hook Tackle

You can't catch big fish with a pin hook, neither can you make money selling cream to local buyers.

We pay the cream producer top prices because our direct shipment system cuts out all useless handling expense. Your check is mailed the day your cream arrives. No waiting for the money.

Your can start back the same day we get it. Thousands of satisfied dairymen testify that Ohio Dairy Service gets them the largest net returns.

Ship us a can and see for yourself.

Can and Check returned to you the day the cream arrives.

The Ohio Dairy Company, Toledo

Rate From Coshocton to Toledo for 5 Gallon Can of Cream is 41c.
Larger Cans More Proportionately.

SHINOLA
America's Home Shoe Polish

Saves Labor, Time and Leather Practice true economy—Shine with SHINOLA daily. 50 shines for a dime.

Black, Tan, White, Ox-blood and Brown

—Always 10c.

FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN —

the SHINOLA Home Set makes shining convenient and easy. A genuine bristle dauber which cleans the shoes and applies polish quickly and easily. Large lambs' wool polisher brings the shine with a few strokes.

It's best to say "SHINOLA"

Shinola
Home Set

J. W. CASSINGHAM, President.

GEORGE W. CASSINGHAM, Vice President.

C. H. MAGRUDER, Cashier

SUMMER TRAVEL

will soon necessitate a safe and convenient way for you to carry funds for expenses!

—Let us recommend our Letters of Credit, American Bankers' Money Orders, Travelers' Cheques or Drafts payable at any part of the country.

—Come in and talk over matters with our officers.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $250,000.00

The Commercial National Bank

1872—Fifty Years in Coshocton—1922

C. R. SPECKMAN, Assistant Cashier.

RUDOLPH EHRLICH, Assistant Cashier,

WALTER J. BIBBER, Teller.

million being mostly peasants and largely illiterate. Their votes went to the clerical party and to the socialists.

The second measure—passed by the old reactionary Parliament—gave Italy proportional representation. All working Italy smiles up its sleeve to think the reactionaries dealt their own death-blow when they passed this measure. It took directly out of the hands of the Nittians and Giolittians the power to control Parliament and brought the political struggles of Italy into the hands of the organized parties, the Socialists and the Popolare (the old clerical party), with the Fascisti and Communists playing lesser parts.

Allied With Democrats.
All other groups have allied themselves for the moment with the strongest "liberal" party, the Democrats. It was this alliance, together with the remnants of Giolitti's old power, that kept Italy Premierless for so long after the fall of Bonomi. Popolare and Socialists united their efforts against the much-hated Giolitti who was naturally an enemy of the Socialists and whom the Popolare hated.

Giolitti, on his part, like a dog in the manger, impeded the election of anyone else. With the Genoa Conference hanging over its head, the Parliament finally compromised on the present Premier, Facta, as a man who would be harmless, though a Giolittian, so long as the opposition parties control Parliament.

Nationalist Parties Harmless.
There is, in fact, little the old nationalist parties can do at present in Italy, and the only parties that have programmes they can work out are the Socialists and the Popolare. The Fascisti and the Communists cannot control parliamentary action, but as strongly organized propagandist groups they can each make their fights. Each of these parties has its land programme, its industrial programme, its syndicate movement. Indeed, everybody seems to have a syndicate movement of his own nowadays.

The Socialists have their old syndicate movement in industries and agricultural activities. The Communists have their "red" syndicates within the Socialist syndicate movement—sometimes within and sometimes "expelled."

The Popolare have their syndicates of workers also, well organized and subject to the control and orders of the party. And now the Fascisti have come forward with their "gruppi," or syndicates which are at present used to break the strikes of the other organizations, but which no doubt will make their own fights if they grow sufficiently strong.

For the moment all Italy is talking democracy, and all political parties are hurriedly offering programmes that will interest the millions of industrial workers and the peasants.

Stereotypers Reject One-Big-Union Plan In Printing Trades

CINCINNATI, July 19.—A proposal that the five printing trades unions amalgamate into one big union, which was first made at the Quebec convention of the International Typographical union last year was disapproved by the executive committee of the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers union which opened its annual convention here Monday. Final action on the matter will be taken later in the week, but it is thought the association as a whole will follow the recommendations of the committee.

Free Staters Hold Thousands Prisoners

LONDON, July 19.—Two thousand irregular prisoners have been captured up to date by Irish Free State troops according to a Central News despatch from Dublin this afternoon. Fighting continues in the region of Limerick. The city is isolated.

WOMEN! DRY CLEAN THINGS AT HOME

Try it! For a few cents you can dry clean everything.

Save time to ten counts quickly by dry cleaning everything in the home with gasoline that would be taken by soap and water—suits, coats, waists, silks, laces, gloves, shoes, furs, draperies, rugs—everything!

Place a gallon or more of gasoline in a dishpan or washbowl, then put in the things to be dry cleaned, then wash them with Solvite soap. Shortly everything comes out looking like new. Nothing fades, shrinks, or wrinkles. Do not attempt to dry clean without Solvite soap. This gasoline soap is the secret of all dry cleaning.

A package of Solvite soap containing directions for home dry cleaning, costs little at any drug store. Dry clean outdoors or away from flames.

THE SHREWD BUSINESS MAN WILL ALWAYS TELL YOU

BUY A FORD
BANK THE DIFFERENCE.

C. W. LOOS
& SONS

Coshocton, Ohio.

Authorized Ford, Fordson
Sales and Service.

Unexpected!

a New "USCO"— Better. Heavier, Longer Wearing 30x3½-$10.90 No Tax added
on Sale Now

USCO set the high value mark for 30 x 3½ tires when it originated the $10.90 price last Fall.

USCO today betters that mark with a new and greater USCO—an USCO improved in many important ways.

For instance, a thicker tread—with a surer hold on the road—thicker side walls, adding strength and life to the tire.

And the price is $10.90—with the tax absorbed by the manufacturer.

Men have always looked to USCO for the biggest tire money's worth on the market.

They always get a bigger tire money's worth than they expect.

No Tax

United States Tires
United States Rubber Company

Fifty-three Factories The Oldest and Largest Rubber Organization in the World Two hundred and thirty-five Branches

Where You Can Buy
U. S. Tires:

COSHOCTON AUTO SALES CO., Coshocton, O.
A. O. HALE, Coshocton, O.
MINNER & TALBOT, Conesville, O.
WEST LAFAYETTE GARAGE, West Lafayette, Ohio.

CONGRESS WILL TRY TO DETERMINE WHAT LIVING WAGE MEANS

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Aroused by the alarming strike situation in both coal and rail industries, congress will shortly undertake the difficult task of determining what constitutes "a living wage" in industry.

This announcement came today from Senator Cummins, father of the railway labor board.

Senator Cummins said the government must undertake to determine what is a living wage for labor, notably for the coal miners and railroad men, before it can expect to bring about a lasting agreement as to working conditions between the employer and the worker.

It was his intention, he said, to sponsor legislation soon that would not only empower the railroad labor board to "establish a living wage" for railroad workers, but would set up another federal tribunal which would bear the same relation to the coal industry as the board does to the railroads.

"I believe that if the labor board had at least attempted to fix a fair living wage, in seeking to reduce the earnings of railroad workers most of the present difficulty would have been avoided," concluded Senator Cummins.

Dr. Thorne Discusses Liming Ohio Soils

"The Ohio farmer whose land is underplanned with sandstone or shale may safely take for granted that his older fields are ready to pay well for liming; but where the soil has been derived from limestone, he should not expect such large returns as are realized from liming soils of sandstone origin," is the conclusion of C. E. Thorne, chief of soils, from an analysis of Station experiments in the use of lime on the principal types of soil in Ohio.

"It is true," he states, "that many of the old fields in western Ohio show an acid reaction to chemical tests, but such a reaction should not of itself be accepted as conclusive proof that liming will pay. Where such a reaction occurs the subsoil may contain much more calcium and magnesium combined than do the surface soils, and in such cases dropping the plow furrow one or two inches may bring up more lime than would be added in an ordinary surface dressing."

"If the subsoil also is acid the presumption is in favor of the addition of lime. By liming two or three alternate shock rows of corn and weighing out the results through the rotation

the value of lime can be proved. "If this is too much trouble," his advice to western Ohio farmers is, "give the moderate dressing of one ton of finely ground limestone and then wait until distinct acidity is shown again before repeating the dose."

Animal Protein Helps Hens Fill Egg Basket

That animal protein is required for profitable egg production is clearly shown by a test just completed at the Ohio Experiment Station. The figures for the nine weeks of the experiment show 583, 245, 190 and 369 as the number of eggs laid by lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, respectively of 28 White Leghorn hens each.

This wide difference was due to the meat scrap ration. It is claimed, as all received the same care and were equally good layers naturally as proved by the previous month's record of 305, 315, 390 and 331 eggs, when all lots received the balanced ration of grain and mash containing 20 per cent meat scraps. During that month a light feed of grain was given in the morning and all they would eat in the evening, and the mash was kept before the hens all the time.

During the experiment, Lot 1 was continued on this balanced ration. Lot 2 was given all the grain the hens would eat, but no mash. Lot 3 was continued the same as Lot 1 except the meat scrap was omitted from the mash. Lot 4 received the same as Lot 2 during the first five weeks then the mash with meat scrap was returned making the same ration for the last four weeks as Lot 1.

Try a Tribune Want Ad
Cost Small—Results Large

WHY GROW FAT?

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

STATE BUILDING AND LOAN ASS'NS REAP BIG GAINS

COLUMBUS, July 19.—Ohio Building and Loan associations made a gain of $35,000,000 in assets during the fiscal year ending June 30 last, according to figures made public today by John W. Prugh, state superintendent of building and loan institutions.

"This gain is considered phenomenal, in view of the fact that during the first six months of the last fiscal year, Ohio was wallowing in the mire of hard times," Prugh declared. He pointed out that building and loan association funds were secured largely from working men and that the gain in assets of building and loan institutions was due to the working man giving up his "orgy of wild spending" and now is living economically.

There was a net gain of $8 building and loan institutions in Ohio during the last fiscal year, Ohio now having a total of 890 of these institutions, total assets approximating $560,000,000 and total authorized capital of $1,236,752,000, the increase of authorized capital for the year being $76,645.50.

Bride's Father Swears Out Bigamy Charge Against Son-in-Law

CINCINNATI, July 19.—Within an hour after Helen Cassimatis, 21, and Paschal Varne, 29, proprietor of a poolroom in this city, crossed the river to Covington and were married Monday, the girl's father swore out a warrant charging the bridegroom with bigamy. The elder Cassimatis said his pseudo son-in-law had been married in Nestram, Macedonia, in 1913, and had not obtained a divorce. Varne was arrested and later released on $3,500 bond.

Irish Are Hungry

BELFAST, July 19.—Western Ireland was reported to be on the verge of famine today in consequence of the continued commandeering of foodstuffs by Republican rebels. The irregulars have drive off most of the cattle and have looted granaries and dairies.

OLD PAPERS at The Tribune office.

SAVE YOUR STOMACH with

JAQUES' Little Wonder Capsules

Quick Relief INDIGESTION DYSPEPSIA
CONSTIPATION

No Mucus—No Bother—No Pills—No Capsules—Just take one or two capsules

On sale by The Wimmer-Arnold Drug Store, Coshocton, O., or 60 cents by mail postpaid for large package from Jaques Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.

Skin Troubles Soothed With Cuticura

Scalp, Eruptions, Itchiness, Eczema, Ringworm, etc.

Free of Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 2, Malden, Mass.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Wimmer Arnold Drug Co. or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

Try a Tribune Want Ad Cost Small—Results Large

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Pat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adele Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The Way Madge Came to Recognize "Don Ramon."

SAT that over again—slowly."

My father's voice was sharp, incise, altogether foreign to his usual soft, suave tones. I obeyed his injunction at once.

"This handkerchief either belongs to Grace Draper or was given or sold by her to some one else," I said. "The embroidery in the corner is her handiwork. I am sure of it."

"Let me see it." He held out his hand, and I put the filmy, dainty trifle within it.

Holding it up to the light, he scrutinized it closely, laid it down again, looked gravely at me, and said:

"There are many other women who do exquisite needlework. And the design is not an uncommon one. What makes you so sure that it is Grace Draper's handkerchief?"

"For two reasons," I replied. "First, because I have watched her at work at this particular design so many times.
Second, because I recognize a device which I discovered in it years ago. If you look at the bit of embroidery in just the right way you will see that the initial 'G' is cunningly enfolded in the four-leaved-clover like this—"

I took up the handkerchief, stretched the embroidered corner flat over my left hand, and with a tiny pencil caught up from my father's table, illustrated my meaning.

"I see." The words came measured-ly. "Then there can be no mistake. It is her handkerchief. It was in this Don Ramon's possession. Then he—What is it, daughter?"

For I had jumped to my feet. My ears, quicker than his, had caught a crash as of breaking glass. The next instant came the sound of feminine shrieking, masculine obligation, the rush of feet along the lower floor of the house, and Katie's voice crying: "O-O-O—oom queeck, everybody. Somebody keeled!"

"That's Don Ramon."

My father was close behind me as I tore open the door and rushed down the stairs. The front door stood wide open, and through it I saw Katie running across the lawn toward a big limousine which leaned groggily against the giant elm on the roadway, and from which the screams were issuing, while directly across the road the most reckless taxi-driver in the section was crawling, apparently unhurt, from under his overtaken light car.

Halfway down the steps I stopped, looked at the group of people emerging from the big car, turned and grasped my father's arm.

"That's Don Ramon Almiraz, and the people with him are his host, hostess and daughter." I whispered. "Make some excuse to keep Lillian and Mother Graham in the house. You are the only one either will heed."

He gave me a quick, comprehending look, and putting a firm grip upon my nerves, I hurried down the path to the wreck, where Katie was already in efficient action. The chauffeur evidently had been struck on the flying glass when the car collided with the taxi, for the blood was running from his forehead into his eyes, blinding him.

That he was otherwise unhurt, I learned from the wigman, who, in a single proceeding to stanch the blood with a towel, which Katie had in her hand when she ran out of the door, and which she promptly put to use. As I reached the gate, Katie skinned past me on the west back to the house.

"Nobody hurt mooh, I guess," she said as she passed. "But I bring down some hot water und dot first-aid stuff, not so?"

"Of course," I said, looked appraising at the group before me, and decided that the hysteria of the older woman whom her husband was trying to quiet was genuine, but that the apparent swoon of the younger woman, whom Don Ramon was supporting, was a clever simulation. I have seen too many fainting persons to be deceived.

At Last—the Truth.

I wasted no time on amenities. I had gauged the people at my previous glimpse of them as the type of newly rich, who think discourtesy and arrogance to be the A. B. C. of aristocratic demeanor. I would do for them what humanity demanded, but I had no wish to become chummy in the process.

"Better your wife up to the house," I said to the head of the party.
"She can lie down."

"I can't stop her," he said helplessly, as she struggled in his arms, sending shrieks and peals of hysterical laughter impetuously into the air.

"I can," I said a bit grimly, for a woman in hysterics when her child is injured always disgusts me. And for all the mother knew her daughter might be seriously hurt. Therefore it was with inward satisfaction that I took the richly dressed woman by the shoulders as if she were Katie, gave her a quick, violent shake, and spoke roughly, firmly.

"Stop this at once, do you hear, and go up to the house and lie down." I gasped as if she had been struck in the face, but her shrieks subsided, and her husband began to lead her toward the house.

"My daughter," the man began. "Don Ramon says it is but a faint."

"I am sure that's all," I returned. "I'll see to her," and as he moved toward the house I turned to the mysterious foreigner.

"Lay her flat on the grass," I commanded, "and let her have some air."

I was looking straight at him as I spoke, and he must have seen the recognition in my eyes, for as he obeyed my command and stepped back beside me, he spoke out of the corner of his mouth,
a trick I well remembered.

"Just as you say, Lady Fair," and I realized at last the truth which had been eluding me since I first saw him in the train, and which had dashed upon me while my father was talking.

The mysterious Don Ramon Almiraz was Harry Underwood!

YOUTH IS EVER YOUTH

By Juanita Hamel

Copyright, 1922,

by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

If there were a magic mirror in which the years could be seen as far back as the beginning of Time, wouldn't we find that the methods and manner of expressing love were always the same as they are today? Customs like languages, may change, but the customs and language of love never change!

THE HOME KITCHEN

By JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON

The Authority on Home Cooking

How to Make the Most of the Currant Season.

AN old superstition among housewives is that currant jelly, if it is made to perfection, must be made before the fourth of July. This may or may not be true, but one precaution is necessary, and that is to pick the fruit on the first hot, sunny day after a cleansing rain storm, when the dew has all been washed off and the fruit is full and clear.

Current jelly is not difficult to make.
Stem the currants without breaking them, put them into the preserving kettle with a cupful of cold water, and let them melt down slowly and simmer until soft, then strain, first through an em-meshed strainer, then through a flannel jelly-bag that has been wrung out of hot water. When the juice has all dripped through the bag, measure it and put in a boiling kettle, allowing it to come to the boiling point before adding the sugar, which should be warmed on a flat pan in the oven, then sifted in gently.
Allow three-quarters of a pint of sugar to each pint of juice.

When melted, and at the boiling point, boil evenly for 12 minutes, skimming carefully, then pour into a cool plate.
Repeat until the jelly is "crisp" and inclined to jelly in drops, then turn into hot, clean glasses. On clear, bright days, fifteen minutes will probably do for cooking, but if the day is damp and heavy it may take a little longer. If the product does not jelly by the next morning, melt it again, and boil for five minutes, which should be sufficient.

Breakfast Currants.
Pick as many perfect clusters as are needed, wash them carefully and shake off the water. Soak in saucers with powdered sugar, dip the fruit in, or if liked better, stir the berries from the stems, sugar them and serve cold.

Current Pie.
Make a rich pie crust and line a deep, well-buttered pie plate. Wash and strip enough currants from the stems to fill the pie, and mix with a half cupful of half of sugar, mixing with it a heaping teaspoonful of cornstarch. Put on the top crust and insert a little cone made of writing paper to carry off the steam and keep the pie from burning over.

Another way of making the pie is to steep as many currants as needed, then strain off the juice. Add a cupful and a half of sugar to the juice and two tea-spoonfuls of cornstarch moistened in a little water, boil up, and when slightly thickened remove from the fire and turn onto the beaten yolks of two eggs. Stir until thickened and slightly cool, turn this mixture into a crust-lined pie-plate, and bake until the under crust is done, cool a few minutes, then cover with a meringue, brown nicely, and serve the pie cold but not chilled. This is an unusual recipe, and it is not as well known as it deserves to be.

Current Jam.
Wash and stem as many currants as are needed and put them in the kettle, allowing three-quarters of a pound of sugar to each pound of currants, and add a cupful of water. When warm and beginning to melt, stir well and begin to boil gently. Continue boiling the mixture until it begins to be rather heavy in stirring. Stir a little of the juice on a cold plate once in a while to judge progress. From thirty-five minutes to an hour is the usual time of cooking, depending on weather and cooking conditions. Stir often. When done, turn into jam pots and leave open to cool before covering.

Stewed Spiced Currants.
Wash and stem two pounds of currants and stew with a cupful of water and two pounds of sugar. Add a spice-ling, and a few cloves, and a small piece of cinnamon, and a few slices of green ginger-root. A thinly-sliced lemon is sometimes added.

What a Bit of Ice Will Do to Bring Beauty to Your Cheeks

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

LUCREZIA BORI

Attractiveness, you should give every care to your complexion. You can undoubtedly improve it if it needs improvement, and if it is beautiful, you can endeavor to keep it so.

Although tan and freckles may come in summer to mar temporarily the pink and white perfection of your complexion, possibly the winter "elements" seem to do you more lasting harm. Perhaps your skin becomes dry and shows tiny wrinkles when it comes in contact with the icy winds of winter, and now you have come to look upon ice and snow as real enemies to your beauty.

If this is so, you will be surprised to realize that one of the greatest allies to woman in her quest of a beautiful complexion is ice.

Do you wish to detract from the years which your complexion seems to add to your credit? Remember that we are as old as our skin, and that among other bits of beauty information which recent years have brought is the knowledge that ice is one of the best known skin beautifiers.

Ice contracts the pores, strengthens your skin and gives it the firmness which revitalizes.

Never use hot water. It dries your skin and the dry skin wrinkles most readily. The best time to use ice to close up your pores and give your skin tone and firmness is at night after you have washed your face in tepid water and rinsed it in cold water.

Try the following treatment to impart the youthful firmness you desire and to bring color to your cheeks:

1. Bathe your face in tepid water.
2. Use your soap, rub it on with the first camel's-hair complexion brush, brush-ing upward and outward. If you want to give your face a rest from soap rub it with almond meal, which has been moistened with a few drops of lemon juice.

When you have carefully rubbed in the cleansing element, either soap or almond meal, rinse your face in cold water.

3. Now take a small piece of ice and rub it all over the surface of your face.
Follow with it the same course you would with a complexion brush or massage, upward and outward.

4. Rub the corner of your mouth and nose and around the outer corners of your eyes. Start from the center of your forehead and rub gently across to either side. Keep on up from five to ten minutes and your skin will be completely diffused with a youthful glow.

Then pat it dry with a soft towel.

After following this course of treatment for some time you should see a marked change in the texture of your skin. Where before there was no color, you should see a soft, pink glow, and instead of tiny wrinkles and tired lines, you should find the smooth contour which delights you with its youthful firmness.

The process is the same as reviving a fading plant with a refreshing drink of water. When used in this way ice causes your blood to flow to the surface, refreshing and feeding your skin.

YOUR HEALTH

Why You Must Banish Fear to Get Well or Keep Well

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Commissioner of Health, New York City

YOU remember the young curate in "The Sorcerer":

Had I a headache? sighed the maids assembled;
Had I a cold? wailed forth the silent tear;
Did I look pale? then half the parish trembled;
And when I coughed! all thought the end was near.

Fear is at the foundation of many of our ills.

It is strange that human experience goes for so little when we measure our own disabilities, or those of our immediate family. We are rare enough when other folks are troubled, but in estimating the significance of our own symptoms too many of us lose all sense of proportion.

The natural tendency of disease is toward recovery. Remember that.
If it were not so the first illness would be likely to prove fatal. Before your last sickness arrives you will have had a hundred illnesses from which you will recover fully.

The trouble with society is, it has a subconscious conviction that its manner of life is wrong, and when illness comes it brings the fear that Nature has rebelled at last and will enforce her claims. "The devil was sick, the devil a saint would be."

Use Common Sense.
No wonder the tribes of the earth have sought to find some drug to rob the human heart of fear.

If you are afraid of high places, avoid them. If you are fearful you will fall.
If you are afraid every time you go sick, avoid the manifest causes of ill-health. You know how to keep well, or you can be taught how to keep well.

But if you live the wrong sort of a life and then when you do get sick are scared half to death, you will be assisted in that direction pretty rapidly.

Likewise, if these about you, your family and friends, have hearts filled with fear, you will be given little real assistance toward recovery. If every symptom you have—headache, running nose, paleness, a cough—sees the family, you will react to their fears and be fearful yourself.

Use common sense about acute illness and about persistent ill-health. With the exception of the contagious diseases, for each of which there is a special germ, there are underlying, even though obscure, causes for sickness.

Illness is rarely a sudden thing.
It does not come like a bolt out of the blue. It gives warning of its approach.
There may be a cloud on the horizon larger than a man's hand. But that cloud gives warning of what may happen.

Points to Consider.
Almost always illness is due to neglect. There are certain very common overlooked causes for sickness. You cannot expect to have good health if there is an organ growing the germs of disease. Yet lots of people have that disease, and are going on in their bodies and never give the matter a thought until acute illness arrives. Then there is a frenzied fear.

Bad teeth and gums, and diseased tonsils, a weak stomach, or more ailments of the alimentary tract, are breeding places for disease-producing germs.
Creative and pus-forming conditions of other organs constitute a fourth chief cause for ill-health.

The interesting, and striking thing about these centres of infection is that the exciting trouble is usually painless and unless the causes of ill-health are sought for they may be overlooked.

If you are not well don't give way to a panic of fear. Sit down calmly and study yourself and your habits.
What is wrong about you?
What is wrong with your ways of living? Knowledge dispels fear.

Answers to Health Questions
BROWNIE. Q—I am a girl 17 years old, and am 5 feet in height, and weigh 115 pounds. What is the correct weight for a girl of my age and height?

A—You are a very good average for your age and height.

MISS E. Q—I am a girl 13 years old, and about three years ago I had the "flu," which left me hoarse. At times I can hardly be heard. What do you think this is, and what is a remedy for it?

A—You may have a nasal condition which is the primary cause of this trouble. You should have a thorough examination made to see if this is the case, and if it is, you must have the nasal condition treated first before you can get relief from your throat trouble.

C. L. Q—Do you think six cups of coconut a day are harmful or beneficial?
2—Are exorcises taken night and morning beneficial?

A—Coconut is beneficial, but six cups a day are rather a large amount to take.

3—If your physical condition permits, exercises night and morning ought to prove beneficial.

4—If you are anemic you should have a blood-count made to determine the type of anemia present before you start treatment.

A. E. Q—I am a young man 23 years of age, 6 feet 1 inch tall. Will you kindly advise me what my weight should be?

A—For your age and height your weight should be about 175 or 180 pounds. However, weight is entirely a matter of individuality.

M. K. Q—Can you advise me what to do to cure myself of the habit of bitting my finger-nails?

A—Apply tincture of asafoetida to the nails. That treatment should be effective.

MRS. C. D. Q—I have severe headaches and suffer from constipation and gas attacks. What is the cause of this and what can I do?

A—If the constipation is relieved the gas formation and the other periodical pains will be lessened. Should you wish further details, repeat your questions and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a reply.

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

DR. COPELAND

THREE-MINUTE JOURNEYS

Where "Doing Up" His Hair Makes a Boy a Man

By TEMPLE MANNING

A KOREAN boy crosses the line from childhood to manhood in a single day—the day he takes his topknot. On this eventful day perhaps no boy in the world enjoys quite such a busy and glad 24 hours, as he, for he gathers his long hair into braids, has his hair put up on top of his head, and meets, becomes engaged to, and marries the girl of his heart.

The Locks Are Tied in Place.

Astrologers who read his future in the stars are present at the ceremony, and the relatives and friends who have come to see the barber fix his hair.

First, the hair is shaved from a small circular spot on the top of his head and the remaining locks are combed up in straight lines, which are tied over the shaved place. Then a small compact knot is tied from the hair.

A band of net called "mangan" is then fastened on top of his head below the top-knot to hold the stray hairs in place.
A gold or jeweled pin is placed in the knot and the boy grins with pride. New clothes—the most important of all—is a great top-coat—donned by the youth, and he is hailed as "Man" amid great feasting and rejoicing.

In the meantime he has been looking around at the eligible young women standing hopefully, watching the ceremony. It is here that he chooses his future mate and the engagement festivities at once begin. A few hours later the marriage ceremony takes place amid more feasting.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl 13 years of age. I have been going with a young man of the same age. We went together for about two years. I love him very dearly, and he says that he loves me.
Until last year, when I went away to school, I thought that I loved him well enough to be his wife, but since we have been parted for the last year and months my love for him has died.

I am in love with another man whom I like much better than the first. He has never told me that he loved me. The other young man still says that he loves me, and I receive letters which I only want to answer as a friend. What do you advise me to do?

BROWN EYES. Don't devote all of your time to one young man, my dear. You are too young to do that. You see, you don't know your own mind, do you? Have both young men for friends.

You are too young to think of them seriously. Wait until you have finished school.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young man of 20, and I am deeply in love with a girl of 13. She loves me as much as I do her. I have been seeing her almost every night since I have been going with her, as it is her wish. But it seems that we disagree on petty matters very often. Do you think that is proper?

Is there any way that I can test her love for me? Is it right for me to see her so often as I do? I am inclined to be a little jealous. What can I do to stop it? A READER.

A READER: Can't you control the situation so that you simply will not enter into the conversation? It takes two to make an argument, you know.

The only way to test the young lady's love for you is—if you are in a position to do so and love her—ask her to marry you and see what she says.
Every night would be too often to call on her even if you were engaged.
Don't you think so, yourself?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl 21 years of age, and have been going with a young man

two months. My senior for about three months, I have known him over a year. He says he loves me dearly, and I love him. He wants me to marry him. But when I am with him he calls me by the name of one of his old girl's instead of calling me by my own name.

Now, why do you think he does this? Is he thinking of her? And if we ever get married, do you think he would be happy if he still thinks of this other girl? This seems wrong to me, so please give me your advice.

WORRIED GIRLIE. The young man has certainly proved his love for you by asking you to be his wife.

I would not give a thought to his calling you by the wrong name. That does not necessarily mean he is thinking of the other girl, and certainly should not prevent you from being happily married if you truly love each other.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a jealous girl and am going with a young man two years my senior, whom I love very much. I am not sure of his love for me, although he tells me he loves me very much and has asked me to marry him.

We are engaged, and there is another young girl trying to take him from me, and I think he makes dates with her. When he is talking to her he stops if I come around, and looks very nervous. Please help me to love this mystery.

JEALOUSY. The young man has proved his love for you by asking you to be his wife, my dear. He can give you no greater proof.

You must overcome your jealousy and suspect and you will never be happy if you love him enough to marry him you should believe in him, for love and a happy marriage are built on faith and trust.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
We are two sisters, 12 and 21 years of age. We love two young men very dearly, but our mother does not want us to go with them.

They are nice young men, and are thought well of in our community.
We both have finished our schooling, so why aren't we allowed to go with them?

Mother does not want us to go to parties at all. We are only allowed to go to church.

Our young-men friends want us to run away with them and get married. We want advice.

ALVADA and LEVADA

ALVADA and LEVADA. You would be very foolish girls to run away and get married. Surely, you own more consideration to your mother than to do a thing like that, say dear.

You are young, and there is lots of time for you to go out and have a good time. Your mother's judgment is the best for you to consider. Remember everything she does or thinks is for your happiness. It may seem now, but some day, and that may be soon, you will be thankful you follow her advice.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of juvenile interest from young women readers of this page, and will reply to them in this column.
Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her, in care of this office.

Today's Fashion

By VERA WINSTON

Blue Sequins, Net and Chiffon

Combine to Form This Empire
Evening Frock.

It has been many a day since we have seen a dress which came anywhere far up to the normal waist, but now, as you see, it is a decided feature of the prevailing mode.

The dress shown above goes back to the early 1920s, and is a very typical example of the style. The dress is made of blue sequins, net and chiffon, and is a very elegant evening frock.

A very long and elegant gown, made of blue sequins, net and chiffon, is shown in the illustration.
The dress is a very typical example of the style of the early 1920s.

THE COSHOCTON TRIBUNE and TIMES-AGE

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Coshocton, Ohio, February 22, 1901, under postoffice number 1000. Published each evening and Sunday morning by The Tribune Company.

| RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION |         |
|-----------------------|---------|
| Per Week              | 10 Cts. |
| Per Month             | 30 Cts. |
| Per Year              | 3.50    |
| One Week              | 10 Cts. |
| One Month             | 30 Cts. |
| One Year              | 3.50    |

ROBERT A. WARD
Foreign Advertising Manager
Eastern Office: 125 Fifth Ave., New York
Western Office: 125 Fifth Ave., New York
Chicago Office: 125 Fifth Ave., New York

Cards of Thanks and Obituaries 1c per word and 10c for head, cash in advance

FULL I. N. S. DAILY PRESS REPORT

Keep The Primary

THE primary, now under attack by reactionaries, is as good as dead, and as bad as self-government. Standpatters have little sympathy for democratic institutions, and accordingly, when President Harding allies himself with those who oppose the primary, the conservative element of the Republican party is standing sincerely by its principles. For this reason, however, it is the more desirable that the progressives in the party and all others who believe in self-government should exert themselves to the full in order to prevent any backward steps.

It is, of course, easy to find arguments against the primary. It is true that during much of the time political bosses choose candidates under the primary system quite as surely as thru the caucus and convention. It may also be admitted that the primary gives undue advantage to the rich candidate who is able lavishly to advertise his qualifications for office. These are serious objections, and there are others. All human institutions, however, are afflicted with man's frailty, and the wise man expects not to attain the ideal, but rather the best of the available choices. Measured by such a standard, the primary is safe.

The convention system of nomination is the practical alternative. The convention means that politicians may indefinitely "sit upon the lid" of popular demand. The convention system would have renominated Senator New and have defeated Albert J. Beveridge in Indiana. The convention system would have defeated Gifford Pinchot in Pennsylvania. Without the primary the progressives Brookhart in Iowa and Frazier in North Dakota could not possibly have been nominated. The convention is a method of forcing the electorate to submit to the domination of a selfish alliance of business and political interests. The primary is a means of expressing the majority will, whenever the issues are sufficiently important to awaken general attention. On the one side is the oligarchical theory of government, and on the other side the American or democratic.

The primary must be preserved, but at the same time intelligent attention should be devoted to its improvement. The old-fashioned American variety is admittedly an unwieldy instrument. Proportional representation and preferential voting, together with the short ballot, would render it more responsive to the popular will. In this direction change in the present laws ought to proceed. Nobody certainly can at this day of international self-determination hope for continued success in politics by seeking to circumvent the will of the citizens. Yet that is precisely what the enemies of the primary are attempting now to do, not only here in Ohio, but in practically every other state in the union.

Hunting Dollarized Patriots

IF ever light is let in on the plundering permitted by the chair-warming patriots at Washington during and after the war it is likely that it will be proved to have been the greatest piece of larceny ever pulled off in the history of the republic. The pilfering started under the Wilson administration and that gentleman blocked an investigation. The Republican brokers "solemnly" promised, in the campaign, of 1920, that they would make a sweeping investigation.

But Congressman Woodruff of Michigan has been trying to get an investigation and has been blocked in Congress by his own party. His resolution providing for an investigation was "pocketed" by the chairman of the Committee on Rules, although the committee itself had voted to report it. An appeal to the House sustained a ruling of the Speaker in favor of the "pocket veto." Woodruff later introduced another resolution urging an investigation and supported it in a speech that charged the most amazing graft in the history of nations.

If the charges made in this speech are true there are any number of 100 percenters who, under the act creating an Alien Property Custodian, are entitled to terms in the penitentiary. The dye interests and the Chemical foundation, of which a former Alien Property Custodian is now the head, appear to bulk large in the dirty mess. One transaction, according to Woodruff, involved the use of a man with a prison record as a dummy, to whom was sold for other parties some excellent loot for a modest sum. Lawyers' fees paid out by the Alien Custodian run into six figures, five of the attorneys receiving a total of $697,000.

Out of this whole situation has come an interesting and, possibly, a future, conspicuous figure, Major W. O. Watts. He happened to hold a position in Washington which enabled him to get access to the inside story. He tried to get action in Congress by helping Woodruff and failed. He was discharged. He has persisted in his fight for an exposure of what may prove to be the most colossal graft in history. Without funds he has gone into debt. In the current issue of the Searchlight of Washington he gives a hint of what he knows:

Thru complicity of its sworn officials the U. S. government has literally been defrauded out of incalculable millions of dollars in the sale of surplus war supplies. A thorough investigation by competent officials of the Department of Justice of the War Department's records and the parties concerned... will reveal a condition of fraud and thievery of a magnitude never paralleled in the history of any government.

More power to Watts. Garvan of the Chemical Foundation is yelling about "pro-Germans" being involved in the attacks upon his noble corporation. It so happens that Watts saw plenty of service abroad. Garvan was a chairwarmer, who kept the "home fires burning." The "pro-German" smoke screen will hardly serve Garvan in the case of any exposure by Major Watts. The latter is to begin a series of articles in the July issue of the Searchlight on this foul mess, and these will be followed by a book.

Meantime the Searchlight is trying to raise funds to help Major Watts prosecute his work. If he can give us the facts documented with proofs that cannot be questioned we predict for his book the biggest sensation since the publication of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, July 19.—Fourteenth street is very much like a miniature world's fair these summer days. Residents do not have to go to Coney Island for their thrills. They are able to find them next door.

Every vacant lot has its makeshift pleasure park with penny carousel, knife throwers and collapsible hot dog range. Fourteenth Street has never been able to shake off the midway spirit.

In almost every block there is an arcade with old fashioned phonograph ear clamp slot machine and the photograph shop which will take "as is." And the fountain in Union Square is the bathing beach for the youngsters.

The street may also boast of more Japanese rolling ball games than any pleasure resort around New York, save Coney Island. But the street hawkers and their "cappers" offer the best amusement to be found there.

They hawk everything—from needle threader to wash-boards—and they do it with a pleasurable thrill for spectators. Any moment they may be clapped in a patrol wagon by roving plain clothes men.

The hawkers know this and they invite the confidence of the crowds. They make the plea of capitalistic pressure. "We are underselling the big department stores and they are out to imprison us," they shout. "We sell to you direct because we are of the common people and want to help you. Now I have here, etc. etc."

The street fakers have their supply of jokes and magic. And the way they disappear when the "capper" gives the signal that a bluecoat is approaching is nothing short of miraculous. Herman the Great has never produced a better vanishing act.

American managers are still scrambling to bring Duse to America. Seven have gone for personal interviews to try to persuade her. She wants to come but there are many reasons why she may not. To begin with, Duse is now a woman of 61-time-worn, tragic, white haired. She clings to her determination not to wear make-up on the stage. She also chills the American manager by her avowal not to play more than three nights a week.

The Long Island house party season has opened and the veranda hounds are having their day. The guest who drops in for a cocktail and remains a week is in evidence. Social grubbers find an easy way indolently to loiter through the summer by "dropping in" at various homes. The professional dancer is always in great demand and for that reason he is so welcome that he can get free board all season in exchange for squirting mantronic fox trotters to the country clubs.

Shed a scalding tear for the Big.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Tribune Files

Dorothy, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bell, West Lafayette, died suddenly Sunday evening.

Rain spoiled the prize fox hunt which started from West Lafayette Saturday night and only half of the course was completed.

A. M. Leffler is erecting a new tin shop in the rear of the upper plant of the American Art Works.

While reaching for her rattle, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Veigle, who reside west of Roscoe, fell from her high chair last evening, breaking her left thigh bone.

S. B. Jones, 63, died suddenly on the streets in Dresden Monday afternoon.

Work of adding a fourth story to the Park hotel has been started.

Darius Wright, 87, Warsaw, died Tuesday evening at his home from the infirmities of age.

UNIONS ASK ORDER RESTRAINING PENNSY FROM CUTTING WAGE

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—An injunction to prevent the Pennsylvania railroad from putting reductions in wages into effect will be asked by counsel for the brotherhood of clerks, freight handlers and station employees of the Pennsylvania system, eastern region, in federal court here today, according to a statement made today by J. Washington Logue, attorney for the union men. Failure to obtain the injunction will result in the walkout of 30,000 to 35,000 men, according to C. H. Fenstermacher, vice general chairman of the brotherhood.

All Classified Advertisements Are Cash-In-Advance

PENNY ANTE

"THE BIG WINNER WAITS FOR A CAR"

By JEAN KNOTT

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE JOLLIER

The Shah of Persia is spending a million in Paris. AW, Shah!

Funny things happen. Somebody beat up a lion-tamer in Boston.

Nevada sentences two Chinamen to death. This leaves 499,999,998.

It is getting so a girl has to decide between staying single and getting her hair bobbed.

"Song and Dance Averts Panic,"—headline. Sometimes they start one.

Los Angeles baby was born in a flivver. A bouncing baby boy.

Only way our vice president can get his name in the papers is by being born on a holiday.

You can make most any man feel at home by starting an argument.

In Detroit a man claims he owns North America. We saw a man yesterday who acted that way.

A pessimist is a man who is an Old Guard Republican.

Hughes Plans Trip

WASHINGTON, July 19 — Secretary Hughes will go to Rio De Janeiro in September as the head of the American Commission to the Brazilian Exposition, it was announced at the white house this afternoon. He will be accompanied by an admiral and a major general.

ABE MARTIN

So many ingenious schemes 't' git business are bein' tried that th' idea o' allowin' us 't' trade in a last year's straw hat on a new one is at least entitled 't' consideration. Vesper Moots pitched a no-hit game yesterday, an' he haint been in college quite a year.

The most important raw material in the world is experience.

Many troubles arise because a few men want to do all the bossing.

No man is much of a lover if he is afraid of laying himself open to damages.

The peculiar thing about business is that when it is slow it is hardest to catch.

A woman's life is largely devoted to keeping up with her neighbors and keeping down her weight.

No pleasure is finer than having a friend with whom you can freely discuss subjects that are supposed to be highly improper.

Hez Heck Says:

"Each session o' Congress seems to be the limit, but the next session proves that it wasn't."

MILLERSBURG NEWS

By Special Correspondent of The Tribune and Times Age

Miss Louise Mueller, of Auburn, N. Y., is spending her vacation here, the guest of her sister, Rev. and Mrs. Mueller.

J. A. Geib, wife and daughter Orpha, sons Victor and Harold, and Miss Esther Leamon, of this place, returned home Sunday from a motor trip to Chicago, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geib, of that place.

Mathew McConnell and family, of Coshocton, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Palmer and family, of this place.

Mrs. Pearl Catlin and son Hamilton, of Tucson, Arizona, are visiting at the P. G. Palmer home.

The home of Charles Casey, near Bloomfield, was burned, Friday, July 14. The fire was discovered while the threshers were eating dinner, and it had gained so much headway that contents of second floor were all burned, while contents of first floor were saved. The origin of the fire is not known.

Mrs. Oliver Farver and children, of Detroit, Michigan, are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rolf and daughter and Mr. J. F. Hummel and son, all of Cleveland, are visiting at home of William Daman and family.

Miss Nellie Olmstead, nurse at Lake Side Hospital, spent Sunday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Olmstead, of this place.

Miss Corinne Mackey, Carl Snyder, Nellie Olmstead and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Miller, of this place, motored to Sugar Creek, Saturday night, the guests of Elmo Estlin, who has charge

WALT MASON

BARDS AND FARMERS

To the bard, serenely singing, I remarked, "You're loafing there, while the husbandmen are bringing corn and turnips to the fair. Oh, the farmers raise their squashes, build the barn and crib and byr, while the poet only sloshes timbarn music from his lyre. And the farmers feed the masses, and they make the world go round, but the poet, as he passes, merely dears 'n empty sound." Said the bard, "The busy granger, as he toils from day to day, as he fills the yawning manger with the home-grown brands of hay, quotes the message of the singers, quotes the poets' cheer-up dope, thinking that the bards are dingers, giving courage, pep and hope. "Let us then be up and doing," quotes the farmer, as he plows; "still achieving, still pursuing," feeding bogs and milking cows. And the poets' words inspire him as he labors all day long, and I fear you'd only tire him if you robbed him of his song. Oh, we work in divers manners, as the bright days come and go; some are born to carry banners, some are born to shovel snow; and no man should view his neighbors with a sneering sort of mirth, saying, "Useless are your labors—why not tumble off the earth?"

By George McManus

Textile Section Of Tariff May Be Cause Of Strike

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A warning to southern senators that a country wide textile strike was inevitable if their proposals to slash the Republican committee rates on imported cotton hose and half hose in the pending tariff bill prevailed, was voiced in the senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah.

Romance of a Book.

The romance of a book is not always inside its covers. The priceless Clarendon Bible in the British museum was bought by an amateur from a butcher, who was delighted to get $2.50 for it.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

The slow and sure overtake the swift.

Deserve success and then command it.

Cultivate good temper. It is like dew and sunshine in your garden.

It is an ill thing to be deceived, but worse to deceive.

The man who sits down on the road to success and waits for a free ride will get left.

Learning is an ornament in prosperity, a refuge in adversity and a provision in old age.

If anger is not restrained, it is frequently more hurtful to us than the injury that provokes it.

It is wiser to run away when there's no remedy than to stay and die in the field foolishly.

Seat thou a man wise in his own conceit? There is more hope of a fool than of him.

Sail boldly when the wind is at your back. When the wind is in your face trim sail and tack.

There is not in nature a thing that makes a man so deformed, so beastly, as does intemperance anger.

While men see that things are not what they should be, there is often the readiness to let all go by with the placing of blame upon other people's shoulders.

A sunny, cheerful view of life, resting on truth, with practical aspiration to make things, men and self better than they are—this is the true poetry of existence.

Those who are the enemies of innocent amusement had the direction of the world, they would take away the springs and youth—the former from the year and the latter from human life.

Cinderella Tonight

SPECIAL DOUBLE ATTRACTION

HAROLD LLOYD in His Latest And Best Comedy, "NOW OR EVER"

Also NORMA ALMTADGE in Her Best Picture "LOVE'S REDEMPTION"

ADMISSION—Children . 15c—Adults . 25c—Tax Paid

NOTICE, West Lafayette Theatre Goers!

Coming Tomorrow and Friday at Grand Theatre, "THE ROYAL ENTERTAINERS"

Presenting a Minstrel Revue of 1922. New Songs, Jokes, Fun. This Is a Guaranteed Attraction.

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BOBBY'S CHAT WITH STORMY PETREL

BOBBY stood very still, for fear that he might frighten the queer-looking bird that was busy digging a hole in the sand.

When the burrow was about a foot deep the feathered creature spread out her pretty wings and prepared to settle herself, but on looking up she spied Bobby and became startled.

"Oh, please, Mrs. Birdie! said Bobby softly. "Please don't fly away. I wouldn't harm you for the world."

"You want to steal my egg?" cried the bird excitedly. "You boys are all alike!"

"My goodness!" exclaimed Bobby. "Was that a nest you were digging in the sand there? I thought you were just making a cool retreat in which to rest."

"I've no time to seek a cool place and little time to rest," chirped the bird. "You see, we petrels always lay our one precious egg in a sandy nest."

"Petrel! Is Mrs. Petrel your name?" asked Bobby.

"Yes," replied the bird. "Some folks call me 'Stormy Petrel' because I love stormy weather and always fly around when the wind and the waves are highest. Yes," she mused, spreading her feathers over her sandy nest, "when the sailors see me flying around they know that a storm is approaching and they always take in sail. I'm known as a pretty good weather-prophet. Someway long before there are any signs of an approaching storm in the sky I can tell that one is on its way. I just seem to sense it, so the sailors rather rely on my judgment."

"And I'll bet they love you for it, too!" Bobby exclaimed. "You probably keep them out of danger every day."

"Oh, well, you see, as I rule we petrels seldom settle down during the daytime. And when we have young we feed them only at night. Haven't you ever seen a petrel before?"

When Bobby shook his head she laughed and said:

"Well, here in Nova Scotia, especially off Cape Sable we are pretty well represented. There are thousands of us here."

"But how can you find food for your baby at night?" Bobby asked.

"Find food?" Mrs. Petrel laughed. "We petrels don't have to hunt for food. All we feed our babies is the oil that is in our bodies. Why, we have so much of this oil that in some parts of the world the natives make us into lamps. All they have to do is to draw the wick through our bodies and when it gets oil-soaked it will burn quite freely. Of course, I've never had the pleasure, myself," Mrs. Petrel laughed.

Suddenly Mrs. Petrel moved uneasily and said:

"I do believe we're going to have a storm and I must hurry," so bidding Bobby good-by, the queer little bird flew away over the water.

By the time Bobby reached home sure enough the sky was all blue and the wind was blowing a perfect gale.

Bowls of sweet peas lent their fragrance to the affair. Miniature baskets, filled with candies were given as favors and served in marking places for: Jack Baumgardner, the guest of honor, Mrs. Glen Baumgardner, Mrs. Clyde Voshall, Mrs. Anna Baumgardner, Miss Mary Voshall, of Denison, Miss Audrey Honobarger, Miss Margaret Pepper, Miss Mildred Parrish, Miss Marjorie Dunlap, Twila Baumgardner, Eddie Cochran, Glenn Loe, Wayne Baumgardner, Howard Foster and Knowles Strauss.

Miss Eleanor Foster and Miss Rhea Kaiser assisted Mrs. Baumgardner in serving the guests.

Take Vicks on Your Vacation

You don't know how many ills Vicks is good for Nearly everybody uses Vicks for cold troubles, asthma, hay fever, catarrh or tonsillitis. These are inflammations of the air passages. But we forget that it's just as good for inflammations of the skin or tissues.

Take the familiar blue jar on your vacation and try it for—

SUNBURN—Prevents and heals.

BRUISES—SPRAINS—Use like a liniment.

BITES—STINGS—Drives mosquitoes away, soothes bites.

POISON OAK or poison ivy.

CUTS—SCRATCHES—Antiseptic and healing.

"The Remedy of 100 Uses"

VICKS

VAPORUB

Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

PERSONAL MENTION

Harold Smith, 350 McClain-av, is spending a several days' vacation at Atlantic City, N. J.

Judge and Mrs. Milo C. Ely, and daughters Virginia and Jean have returned to their home in this city, after a few days visit with Mrs. Ely's father, E. W. Link, Canal Fulton, Ohio.

Clay Miller, 721 Chestnut-st, has returned from a business trip to Mansfield.

Kenneth Duke returned to his home in Toledo, Wednesday, after spending the past several weeks in this city, visiting his mother, Mrs. Harriet Darling, 524 Locust-st.

Mrs. Kate Courson, of Jacksonville, has arrived for a visit in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Parrish, 416½ Main-st.

Miss Helen Pauline Rodgers, 143 south Eighth-st, went to Columbus, Monday, to be the guest of friends and relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Sue McLaughlin, of Akron, is a guest in the home of her mother, Mrs. Rose McCartan, 217 south Eighth-st.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. DeHart, 330 south Fourth-st, are entertaining as their house guest, Mr. DeHart's sister, Mrs. Kathryn Kennedy, of Kinsborton.

Miss Madeline Akerooy, of Huntington, West Va., arrived Monday evening for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Akerooy, 349 north Ninth-st.

Miss Irene Rodgers, 143 south Eighth-st, has gone to Youngstown, where she was called on account of the death of her nephew, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers.

Mrs. Myrtle Palmer, of Coshocton, is spending her summer vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hamilton, of Warsaw Route 2.

C. N. Randles, of Roscoe, has gone to Hilton Dam, Tuscarawas-tp, for a few days business trip.

THIS IS THE "FOOT COMFORT WEEK" OF CANTWELL'S TRADE BUILDING CAMPAIGN

"YE OLD TYME COMFORT SHOES"

High Shoes, Oxfords and Strap styles—Every pair made of very fine soft Kid leather with genuine turn soles. Priced for this week only—

$3.45 To $4.45

OUR "PRIDE" LINE FOR WOMEN

Oxfords, Slippers or Strap styles. Soft and easy. Now—

$2.75

MEN'S COMFORT SHOES

Made of soft Kangaroo leather, welt soles, special at $4.95. Brown Kid Romes. Special at—

$2.95

Our July Trade-Building Campaign offers many other opportunities to become acquainted with Cantwell Shoe Values and Cantwell Shoe Service.

SEE OUR WINDOWS!

CANTWELL'S

SHOES HOSIERY

SOCIETY

Call Phone 205

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lynde and son Billy, 960 Cambridge-st, and G. Fred Cantwell and son Douglas, 137 south Fourth-st, will return home Thursday from a several days' motor trip to Akron and Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson delightfully entertained at their home on Coshocton Route 3, Sunday, commemorating the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Wilson, John Wesley Dawson, of Coshocton, and Miss Elinor Tubbs, of Akron.

Covers were marked for: Mr. and Mrs. John Kirker, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Marshall and son Parnell, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Tubbs and son Clarence, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dawson and children Avanelle and John Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Welling and children Nadine and Marcus, Mrs. George Welling and grandson Eugene Farvery, George Wilson, the guests of honor and the host and hostess.

Thursday morning special, $1.00 silk gloves, Black, white and colors 75c pair. Anderson-Hack Co.

Mrs. Robert C. Blackledge, 1033 Orchard-st, will entertain the Hope Circle class of the United Brethren church, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William V. Shepler, of Pittsburgh, Pa., have arrived for a visit in the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shepler, 243 north Eighth-st. They will also spend some time in Zanesville, with Mrs. Shepler's mother, Mrs. M. R. Herman, before returning home.

Thursday evening, at the Town and Country club, members will enjoy the bi-monthly informal dancing party, which has been postponed for one week.

Hay's orchestra will present the musical program and the affair promises to be another one of those delightfully informal affairs.

The ladies of the New Castle M. E. church will hold a lawn fete on the Square, Saturday evening, July 29.

Mrs. Eli English was hostess to the T. T. Sewing club, Wednesday afternoon at her home, 32 north Thirteenth-st.

The afternoon was devoted to needlework and social conversation and later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Enrolled in the club are: Mrs. Carl Wisenburt, Mrs. Clifford Reamer, Mrs. John McCullough, Mrs. Grover Johnson, Mrs. E. English, Mrs. Dora Johnson, Mrs. E. E. Reamer, Mrs. Ben Shaffer, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. George Baumgardner, Mrs. Ross Hamilton, Mrs. Charles Carpenter, Mrs. Samuel Hines and Mrs. Glenn O. Boyd.

Mrs. Frank Ryan, Mrs. S. O. Riggs

Ice cream social, Friday, July 21st, by G. U. R. Girls of the U. B. church at Central Bank parking grounds, 5:30 p. m.

Thursday morning special, 15c large Turkish bath cloths 11c each. Anderson-Hack Co.

J. W. Cassingham, 819 Main-st, returned Tuesday evening from a several weeks' visit with his son, Charles L. Cassingham, of Cleveland.

He was accompanied to Coshocton by G. W. Cassingham and W. G. Hay who have been spending the past few days in that city on business.

Plans are being made for a lawn fete and social by the Dutch Run Sunday school to be held Saturday evening, July 29.

Thursday morning special, $5.00 extra fine full size bed spreads $4.00. Anderson-Hack Co.

A family reunion for the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mikesell, of New Guilford, was held Sunday at the home of their son-in-law, T. J. Clark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mikesell.

On the spacious lawn of the Clark home, a delicious picnic dinner was served to: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mikesell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mikesell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mikesell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mikesell and children, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Bryon and son Jennings, of Dresden and Mr. and Mrs. Clark and children.

Thursday morning special, 25c all white bordered Huck Towels 5 for $1.00. Anderson-Hack Co.

Mrs. John Savage, of Wills Creek, was hostess to the members in the W. H. M. S. Friday afternoon. Following the regular discussion on the subject, "Africa," Mrs. Stephen Lear and Miss Anna Savage gave a prologue on, "Mary and Martha of Today." Elden Powelson and Francis Clark were heard in recitations and Elden Powelson also delighted his audience with a vocal number.

Dainty refreshments were served to the Rev. and Mrs. O. E. Vice, Mrs. Stephen Lear, Charlotte and Arthur Lear and Mrs. Clark, of Coshocton, Mrs. J. H. Davis, Mrs. A. Darner, Mrs. J. Royer, Mrs. H. Sturtz, Mrs. J. Sandel, Mrs. Emma Stagner, Mrs. Schumesser, Mrs. J. F. Sandel, Mrs. Merrell Powelson, Mrs. Bruce Powelson, Mrs. William Savage, Mrs. T. Jones and the Misses: Lydia Sturtz, Vernal Tumbler, Grace Sandel, Theima Vice, Anna Savage and Francis Powelson, Elden Powelson and the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Arthur Hamilton.

Thursday morning special, $1.00 light percale Bungalow Aprons 75c each. Anderson-Hack Co.

SOX N hmdc

Mrs. Russell Leavengood, Mrs. Ross Leavengood and Mrs. W. H. Leavengood and Mrs. Maude Preston were picnicking at the W. F. Miller farm, near Baltic, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lulu Graham, of Detroit, Mich., who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Raymer and Mrs. Jane Denzer, 329 south Ninth-st, for the past ten days, returns home Thursday.

Thursday morning special, $1.00 and $1.25 extra fine fancy turkish towels 75c each. Anderson-Hack Co.

Mrs. Ralph O. Baumgardner, 1406 East Main-st, graciously entertained at her home Tuesday afternoon, commemorating the fifth birthday anniversary of her son Jack.

A profusion of ferns and garden flowers were used thruout the Baumgardner home in decorating for the occasion. A large birthday cake trimmed with pink and white candles, centered the table while streamers of white were caught at the chandelier and extended to the individual places.

"Oh, Please, Mrs. Birdie!"

vide her own sandwiches and a covered dish. No program will be given but an especially enjoyable time is being planned.

Thursday A. M. Special, at The Walker Millinery, your choice of 25 trimmed hats for $1 each.

Mrs. W. H. Compton, 722 Main-st, was hostess to her Bridge club, Tuesday afternoon, with two tables in play.

Members of the club are: Mrs. Charles F. Maynard, of Trilway, Mrs. David Jackson, Mrs. M. A. McConnell, Mrs. Thomas B. Anderson, Mrs. Seth M. Snyder, Mrs. Joseph Thomson, Miss Jennie Compton and the hostess.

Three substitutes were present at the affair.

Mrs. Hugh Gamble entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner, Tuesday evening, in her home, 622 Walnut-st, for the pleasure of Mrs. Lulu Graham, of Detroit, Mich.

Attend the special bargain sale Thursday A. M. at The Walker Millinery, colored sport hats for $1 each.

Mrs. Charles Nizer and Mrs. Virgil Parks, were joint hostesses to the members in Mrs. J. P. Cone's Sunday school class of the First Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening in the home of the former, 1332 Chestnut-st.

An entertaining program was given during the evening including a number of vocal selection by Mrs. Carl McGinnis and a reading by Mrs. L. H. Moss-holder.

Delicious refreshments were served to: Mrs. Wilbur Barton, Mrs. Joseph A. Lockard, Mrs. L. H. Mossholder, Mrs. M. R. Adams, Mrs. Carl McGinnis, Mrs. Shaffer the Misses Sarah and Elizabeth Crawford and the hostesses.

Attend the special bargain sale Thursday A. M. at The Walker Millinery, colored sport hats for $1 each.

The Jolly Hustlers Food club will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the basement of the Keene school-house.

Y. W. C. A. NEWS

Members of the Many-Ha-Ha club, together with the Lat-O-Lots will enjoy an outing at Camp Netawa over the week end. Of course we are planning for an especially enjoyable time and are eager for as many as possibly can, belonging to the club, to join in the outing.

The first week of August at the camp has been set apart for the Girl Reserves. All girls in the High school together with those in the seventh grade last year, are included in the invitation for the week.

Drop in at the association rooms and sign up with Miss Woodard for your reservations. Needless to tell you what a GOOD time you will have. Better come and find out for yourself, rather than be disappointed.

FORTHCOMING BOOKS

FROM WOMAN'S PRESS

"Do's and Don'ts for Business Women" Among Them

Books announced for publication by Woman's Press during this Summer and early Autumn include much of general interest. "Do's and Don'ts for Business Women" popularize breezy talks by Jean Riche will be off the press early in August. Miss Riche's talks have already had great success in syndicated form. Much of the book is based on the hundreds of queries received by Miss Riche from girls perplexed about business relationships.

Miss Maude Royden's addresses made while visiting here last Spring are also to be published in book form. Already such interest has been expressed in her broad and tolerant views that it is in answer to a widespread demand that the series are on the press. "Citizenship Studies" by Alice Standish Buell, is a book to arouse community interest and active citizenship. Mrs. Buell is director of the Law Reporting Service and an authority on bills and legislative activities.

A trio of pageants include "Canton Plurais" by Jean Paxton; "A Christmas Dilemma" by Catherine D. Lyford, and "Bean and Belle" by Thompson Arnfield. Problems of present day Christianity are dealt with by Lyman Abbott in "Lenten Meditations." "Wholeness of Christianity" by Charles W. Guilkey and "Fundamentals of Christianity" by Alexander Purdy.

The Woman's Press has the distinction of being the only publishing house, managed and run by women. Its headquarters are at 600 Lexington Avenue, New York.

Political Cards Are Put to Very Good Use

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, July 19—A new use has been found for the campaign cards handed out by Belmont County candidates for political offices.

A Bellaire picnic party, pitching horseshoes late in the evening, was unable to see the pegs when dusk arrived until someone thought of the candidates' cards, which were tacked about the park.

The cards were forced down over the pegs. The white surface of the cards rendered the dark pegs visible.

Chautauqua guarantors and pledges are asked to call at the Y. W. C. A. rooms by Wednesday evening to settle for their tickets.

NEWSIE ENJOYS WARM FRIENDSHIP OF BOSS AT MOOSE CARNIVAL

Patrons of The Tribune received their papers this afternoon from carriers who seemed to be in a great hurry. Newsboys rushed home for supper, those that of eating, and hardly touched their food, mothers wondered at the rush and fathers were plainly puzzled. The boys knew, tho that tonight of all nights in the year was to be their night and they rushed thru their routes to get to Walnut-st where they were to take places in the parade that was to precede their entertainment at the Moose Mid-Summer Joy Frolic.

They were to compose the entire third section of the long parade and were to be led by Syd Paris' band, one of the best minstrel bands on tour. They had to be there at 7 o'clock which explains the rush.

Monday morning arrangements were made for their entertainment and The Tribune, the Loyal Order of Moose and Robert Gloth, manager of the World at Home Shows, selected Wednesday night as their night.

Mr. Gloth once hustled newspapers on street corners in his home town of Albany, N. Y., and since he graduated from the ranks of the busiest group of boys in the world he has always held a warm spot in his heart for the newsies.

"The trouble with most people," Mr. Gloth said today, "is that they take their newspaper carriers and sale boys for granted. They see them each day rain or shine and they look upon them as they do the weather, or the tax collector, something that is part of life but nothing to get excited over. The truth of the matter is there is not a harder working class in America than the newsboys. They must be always on time whether it is a sweltering day in summer or a blizzard day in winter.

"Folks sitting by their firesides on cold winter evenings forget that some little shaver plodded thru snow over his shoe tops, with his hands half frozen and his feet soaking wet, in order to get the paper to the patron on time. And in the summer time when they are sitting on their cool verandas they take little thought for the boy whose feet

CRIPPLED PYTHIANS ESCAPE ONSLAUGHT OF SAVAGE RED MEN

The weather man favored the Peaceful Pythians Tuesday evening and the Indians were unable to attack the Knights' fort on account of the element weather.

Chief John Gross and his Red 0.00 had their war paint on, ready for war for first place with the Knights. The Pythians are crippled. Their center-fielder, Proctor Norman, is out for the rest of the season with a broken leg. Catcher Darr is out of the lineup for several days on account of a weak ankle. Fielder Jones also has been limping around for several days with a weak ankle.

The Red Men and Knights of Pythians postponed game will be played after other postponed games have been played in the Fraternal League.

The Moose and Eagles will play their postponed game on Friday evening at Red Sea park.

The Elks and K. of C's are scheduled to play at Red Sea this evening.

FLYER STILL GOES

BOMBAY, July 19. — Major W. T. Blake, British airman, who set out from London to fly around the world, has reached Karachi, in British India, according to information received here today. Major Blake began his flight late in May but has been held up by mechanical troubles.

KODAK

Developing, Printing.

Velox Paper Used.

Carl B. Meade

Jeweler

"What Meade Says Is So"

CHAUTAUQUA TENT AND CREW ARRIVE LATE WEDNESDAY

The big chautauqua tent reached Coshocton this afternoon and Thursday will see it set up and ready for what the committee believes will be the most successful chautauqua Coshocton has ever known. Supt. E. L. Brown and the three crew boys came today and Miss Clarke, the Junior leader, will arrive some time Thursday. The tent is being placed on the Chestnut-st side of the Chestnut school building ground instead of on the Eighth-st side where it was last year.

Ticket sellers are working hard today in hopes that the guarantee fund may be reached tonight. A sale of 700 adult tickets or their equivalent in Junior tickets is required to reach the guarantee. All ticket sellers, all officers and all other chautauqua boosters are reminded of the "Pop Meeting" to be held at the Y. W. C. A. rooms this evening at 7:30. Complete reports are to be given of the campaign to date and plans are to be worked out for a whirlwind finish tomorrow. Neither the officers, nor Mrs. Anna Dokenwaddle, chairman of the ticket sale in town, or D. D. Boyd, chairman of the sale in the county will be satisfied with merely reaching the guarantee. They feel that the very considerable decrease in price, linked up with the strength of the program should mean a sale far in excess of the guarantee.

The fun for the Juniors began this afternoon with a very active ticket hunt under the direction of Miss Thyra Wells, who is in charge of the Junior ticket sale.

Those Icy Mountains.

There's many a man in Greenland who is honest as the day is long because there they have six-month nights.

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BOBBY'S CHAT WITH STORMY PETREL

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BOBBY'S CHAT WITH STORMY PETREL

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BOBBY'S CHAT WITH STORMY PETREL

CUT THE NERVE TO THE HEART

WEDNESDAY Health Talk No. 114.

By R. E. Lynch, D. C., Ph. C.

Cut the nerve leading to the heart. Immediately the heart stops beating and death ensues. Pinch the nerve that runs from the spinal nerve opening in the backbone and you will have disease. You will have heart disease of more or less severity, depending upon how badly the nerve is squeezed.

—Take the pressure off the nerve and you restore normal communication between brain and heart, and the heart once more rights itself and beats normally. The cause of the heart trouble has been removed. This very thing is being accomplished day after day by chiropractors throughout the country. The Chiropractor locates the spinal subluxation that is causing the pressure on the spinal nerve and by his skill in giving chiropractic spinal adjustments restores the alignment of the offending spinal bone and with pressure off, Nature makes the restoration to normal.

HAD LEAKAGE OF THE HEART STOPPED

"I had leakage of the heart for a number of years. I had difficulty breathing. By putting your ear over the region of my heart you could hear a low whistling sound due to the leakage. I tried everything and spent lots of money without results until I tried chiropractic. The adjustments stopped the whistling and I now feel in excellent health. Chiropractic Research Bureau statement No. 1093H.

DISEASE

Affections of any of the following organs may be caused by nervous impingement at the spine. A SUBSTITUTED VERTIGRA

Chiropractic (Spinal) Adjustments will Remove the Cause of.

The Spine is The Index To Your Health.

M. H. GOODHART

Licensed Chiropractor and Neuro-Magnetist.

Office, Sixth and Walnut-Sts., Efficient Service.

A.B. Parrish

DOCTOR OF CHIROPRACTIC

SAVINGS & LOAN BLDG.

PHONE 1611

X-RAY LABORATORY

LADY ATTENDANT

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BOBBY'S CHAT WITH STORMY PETREL

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BOBBY'S CHAT WITH STORMY PETREL

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BOBBY'S CHAT WITH STORMY PETREL

GETTING STARTED

Toward health is merely a matter of telephoning 1553 or 945 for an appointment.

R.E. Lynch

CHIROPRACTOR

436½ MAIN ST.

FISK RED-TOP CLINCHER TIRE

Extra Fly of Fabric Heavy Tread

THE new price of $15.85 for the famous Fisk 30 x 3 1/2 Red-Top is six dollars and fifteen cents below June, 1921, price. The quality is exactly as high—the strength of its construction has not been diminished in the slightest degree.

No other tire ever made approaches its popularity for use on rough roads or with heavy loads. Extra ply and with a heavy, tough red tread, every day adds many hundreds of enthusiastic new users of Red-Tops.

Available, also at reduced figures, in size 31 x 4, 32 x 3 1/2, 32 x 4 and 33 x 4.

There's a Fisk Tire of extra value in every size, for car, truck or speed wagon.

LOOK IN YOUR STRONG BOX

Are All of Your Investments Entitled to a High Rating?

Check them over. Are any defective in security or uncertain of payment? After all, is not safety the main thing?

You may depend absolutely on every Buckeye certificate of deposit you have. Twenty-seven years of sound, solid growth, with never a loss to any depositor or stockholder, entitles these certificates to the very highest rating.

Upon our record of 5% and safety we invite new business.

RESOURCES OVER $22,000,000.00

STOCK AND SURPLUS OVER $3,000,000.00

The Buckeye State Building & Loan Co., Rankin Bldg.
22 West Gay Street, Columbus, Ohio.

BASEBALL

HOW THEY STAND

| Clubs        | National | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|--------------|----------|-----|------|------|
| New York     | 50       | 31  | 19   | .617 |
| St. Louis    | 48       | 30  | 18   | .602 |
| Cincinnati   | 46       | 41  | 5    | .529 |
| Chicago      | 45       | 40  | 5    | .529 |
| Brooklyn     | 42       | 13  | 29   | .494 |
| Pittsburgh   | 39       | 44  | 4    | .470 |
| Philadelphia | 29       | 59  | 3    | .367 |
| Boston       | 29       | 52  | 3    | .357 |

| Clubs        | American | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|--------------|----------|-----|------|------|
| St. Louis    | 50       | 36  | 14   | .681 |
| New York     | 48       | 39  | 9    | .662 |
| Chicago      | 45       | 41  | 4    | .523 |
| Detroit      | 45       | 43  | 2    | .511 |
| Cleveland    | 43       | 44  | 1    | .494 |
| Washington   | 40       | 42  | 1    | .482 |
| Philadelphia | 34       | 47  | 1    | .420 |
| Boston       | 36       | 50  | 1    | .419 |

| Clubs        | Association | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|--------------|-------------|-----|------|------|
| Indianapolis | 51          | 34  | 17   | .557 |
| St. Paul     | 51          | 34  | 17   | .557 |
| Milwaukee    | 52          | 12  | 40   | .553 |
| Minneapolis  | 45          | 12  | 33   | .517 |
| Louisville   | 47          | 15  | 32   | .511 |
| Kansas City  | 42          | 52  | 4    | .447 |
| Columbus     | 37          | 51  | 1    | .407 |
| Toledo       | 32          | 56  | 1    | .364 |

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

National—
St. Louis 9, New York 5.
Cincinnati 4, Boston 3.
Chicago 6, Philadelphia 3.
Pittsburgh Brooklyn—rain.
American—
New York 11, Chicago 4.
Cleveland 6, Philadelphia 3.
Boston 5, Detroit 5.
St. Louis—Washington—rain.
Association—
St. Paul 5, Columbus 2.
Kansas City 2, Indianapolis 0.
Toledo 12, Minneapolis 7.
Milwaukee 6, Louisville 5.

GAMES TODAY

National—
New York at Cincinnati.
Boston at St. Louis.
Brooklyn at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Pittsburgh.
American—
St. Louis at Philadelphia.
Detroit at New York.
Cleveland at Washington.
Chicago at Boston.
Association—
Columbus at St. Paul.
Toledo at Minneapolis.
Indianapolis at Kansas City.
Louisville at Milwaukee.

White Sox played schoolboy baseball in losing to the Yanks 11 to 1. Blankenship, Schupp and Courtney were found for twenty hits, Mouse and Witt getting four, in the Yanks' only victory of the series. Hooper got his third home run in as many days.

Roy Grimes returned to the Cub line-up after a week's absence and greeted Singleton and Ring with four hits, including a double and home run, the Cubs beating the Phils 6 to 3.

In spite of a home run with the bases filled, by Bobby Veatch, the Tigers finished on the short end of a 6 to 5 game with the Red Sox. Burns' single in the eighth summoned Harris to the plate with what proved to be the winning run.

Duddy Fails to "Dud" In Baseball Contact

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 19.—In a game with Pratt City, John Duddy, of the Jordan Park Club, hit a screamer toward the outfield. The ball, relayed hurriedly by the Pratt City centerfielder, and Duddy's arm reached the same point in the vicinity of third base at the same instant.

Contact! Duddy states that he remembered nothing for ten minutes afterward until he was revived by teammates. In the meantime, though, he had crossed the home plate with the run that tied the score.

But, ending to an otherwise happy yarn Duddy's team lost the game, 10—9.

Tiny Will Probated

LONDON, July 19.—The tiniest will on record has been probated here. It was engraved in minute letters upon the back of the identification tag worn around the wrist of William Henry Chamber, who was lost in the Battle of Jutland.

All Want Ads Cash In Advance

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most Economical, Cleansing, Healing Antiseptic is

Prentice

A pure white, harmless powder to be dissolved in water as needed. There is nothing like it for treating inflammation, ulceration, pelvic or nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes or to whiten the teeth.

Men say "it's worth its weight in gold to purify the breath after smoking." At Druggists or postpaid, large box, 70 cents.

The Comfort Powder Co., Boston, Mass.

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

Prentice

"Mothers All Over the World

Should Be Told About Sykes Comfort Powder," says Nurse Fry

Independence, Mo.—"I wish I could tell mothers all over the world about Sykes Comfort Powder. I could written day of the wonderful results I have had using it on children. I have proved over and over again it is the only powder that will heal and prevent chafing, scalding, rashes, skin irritations and soreness, and the little baby whose picture I am sending you has always been entirely free from such troubles by its use."

—Laura M. Fry, Independence, Mo.
The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. Physicians, mothers and nurses call it "A Healing Wonder."

PUREBRED COWS SAID TO PRODUCE THE BEST BUTTER

Twenty-three Million Cows Supply Milk And Butter For U. S. Consumers

(By International News Service) CHICAGO, July 19.—The milk and butter fat at present produced by the 23,000,000 dairy cows of the United States could be produced by 12,000,000 if only pure bred sires were at the head of each herd, according to a survey made public here by the National Institute of Progressive Farming.

In Denmark, which has the most highly developed dairy industry in the world, the productivity of cows is double that of the United States, it was pointed out.

The world's champion milk and butter fat cows are in this country, but less than three-quarters of a million of the 23,000,000 producing dairy cows are pure bred. This accounts for the fact that our average production is only one-half that of Denmark and Holland.

An illustration of the profit in the use of purebred sires comes from Iowa State College, according to the survey. In this instance the first cross breeding of native cows with pure bred Holstein Friesians showed an increase of 83 per cent in milk and 58 per cent in butter fat. The second generation cows, which were three-quarters pure bred, showed an increase of 150 per cent in milk and 128 per cent in butter fat over the production of the original native cows. If this process were followed in all herds the survey estimates that production would be about forty pounds of butter per capita instead of seventeen a year as at present, eight or nine pounds of cheese instead of 3.8, and three pints of milk daily instead of one.

The survey expressed the opinion that American farmers are progressing slowly but surely toward this standard, just as they are progressing in other ways, that is in the rotation and diversification of crops, greater use of fertilizer and the employment of tractors and other farm power machinery which saves time to be devoted to the greater care required by higher grades of live stock.

Dairy Farmers Progressive

The dairy farmer, the survey shows, is a leader in the progressive farming and the prosperity of dairy territory is apparent to the passerby in the large number of automobiles to be seen, good condition of roads, and in thriving, brisk-looking villages and towns.

The survey finds that in communities where dairying is in its infancy purebred sires are often community-owned. The Northwest leads in the comprehensive dairying program. The greater dairy show in the world is to be held at Minneapolis in October. In North and South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota the survey reports that the state governments are actively behind the upbuilding of dairy herds. In the Dakotas there are big educational committees at work and the program has the support of bankers and business men generally.

Another encouraging aspect of the situation is found by the survey in reports by the purebred associations. All report business good and it is stated that the shipments of Ayre Jakes were recently made respectively to Costa Rica, Hawaii, Mexico, China and Japan. A greater number of Jerseys have been registered in the past year than any year in the history of the American Jersey Cattle College, with one exception. Registrations this year so far number 45,000. Breeders are looking forward to a tremendous demand with a return of prosperity to farms in the near future.

Too Many Cigarettes

DURHAM, Eng., July 19.—An eleven-year-old boy was found dead in bed at his home here and physicians attributed the death to the smoking of eleven cigarettes in ninety minutes.

Old papers at the Tribune office.

KEEP YOUR FLASHLIGHTS READY FOR INSTANT USE WITH EVEREADY BATTERIES

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR AN EVEREADY FLASHLIGHT

The light every motorist needs!

The most wonderful light ever created for motorists to read road signs and attend to emergency work about the car. Think what an astonishing flashlight this Eveready Spotlight is—shoots a 300-ft. beam of electric brilliance! For motor boating, canoeing, or rowing, to show your location to approaching boats, pick up moorings, find landing points, and get in and out of the boat; for Boy Scouts and campers, the light that completes their equipment; for vacationists; for everybody everywhere on every occasion when handy, safe, portable light is needed.

MONEY-BACK OFFER

Try out the wonderful Eveready Spotlight. Buy one of any dealer for $3.75. Use it over night, flashing its 300-ft. beam near and far. If you want to return it next day, the dealer will refund your money without argument. (Frankly, you will keep it. No one wants to part with an Eveready Spotlight after trying it out.)

Eveready Flashlight Batteries give a brighter light; last longer; fit and improve all makes of flashlights.

For sale everywhere at electrical, hardware, sporting goods, drug, and auto accessory shops; garages; general stores.

EVEREADY FLASHLIGHTS & BATTERIES

Mysterious "Killer" Appears In Florida

MILLVILLE, Fla., July 19.—People in this section have long been in almost nightly fear of the prowling of some animal, said to be a panther, which makes nocturnal raids on pigstys, goat herds and now is attacking chicken roosts. One family reports the loss of seven head of geese recently, the remnants of the carcasses having been strung generally over the landscape after the unidentified animal had evidently satiated his appetite. Pies have been heard to squeal at night, and that is the last of them.

Persons who have tried to get within range of the animal have failed so far, and some who have caught sight of the beast describe it as one of varying hues. Some say it is black, others tawny, while fishermen declare it is spotted.

Police Teach Mexican Some Lessons In Love

ATLANTA, Ga., July 19.—Love-making in the land of the "Hot Tamale" and the same thing and Uncle Sam's flag are entirely different things.

Down in Mexico if a young swain sees a lady on the streets whose acquaintance he desires to make it is all right for him to follow her home at a respectful distance. By this means he learns her address and can then seek a formal introduction.

Not so in the U. S. A. Abel Reyes found this out when he was arraigned for annoying two young women on the streets here.

They told the Judge Reyes did not attempt to speak to them, but kept following them. Reyes said he intended no harm, but was merely trying to find out where the ladies lived, so he might become acquainted with them as was customary in Mexico.

He was admonished to learn the customs of the United States and was fined $11.

You Win, Aaron!

NEW YORK, July 19.—That proverbial brown derby, if it can be found quickly, should be awarded, without hesitation, to Aaron Sokolski, "East Side" student.

"Who can give me the definition of store?" Aaron's teacher is reported to have queried.

"I can, teacher," Aaron is said to have replied. "A store is a de boid what brings de babies."

Florida Family Holds Triple Birthday Party

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 19.—What is claimed to be the world record for triple birthday celebrations on the same day of the month is held by the family of O. S. Norman here.

On July 5 the family staged a triple birthday celebration for the three children of the family, all of whom were born on that day of the month.

but in different years. Helen was born July 5 at Kansas City in 1908; Cleo Elizabeth July 5 at Fort Smith, Arkansas, in 1919, and O. S., Jr., was born here July 5, 1921.

All Want Ads Cash In Advance Try a Tri-une Want Ad

HERBS USED IN MEDICINES

A Manchester, England, pastor urges the renewed cultivation of old-fashioned medicinal herbs in English gardens. In the United States they have also gone out of fashion as a feature of the small garden, although they are imported in large quantities from Turkey, India and China, where they are grown purely for commercial purposes, as their medicinal value is recognized by many leading physicians. Tens of medicinal herbs are used annually in the preparation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most successful medicine for women's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and women afflicted with such ailments should try it.

GIRLS BEAUTIFUL ACTRESSES SAY

"A Short Massage with Howard's Buttermilk Cream At Night Before Retiring Is All That Is Necessary."

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

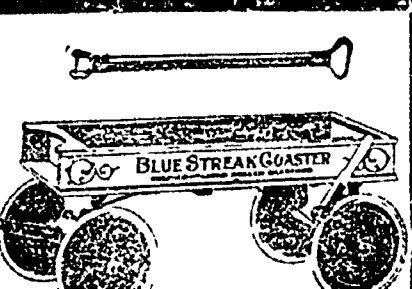

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at your usual drug or toilet goods counter, with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase price should you be dissatisfied. If you cannot obtain locally send 10 cents (silver or stamps) for generous trial package of both Cream and Soap. Howard Bros. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

We do not guess what Lenses your eyes need. We know. Thirty-five years' experience in Coshocton in fitting and adjusting Glasses.

Overland
America's Low Cost Comfort Car—
$550.00
F. O. B. Toledo.
COSHOCTON AUTO SALES CO.
Third St. Garage,
Phone 210.

BLUE STREAK COASTER WAGONS
Roller Bearing, Disc or Spoke Wheels.
FOR REAL BOYS.
BRUSHWOOD'S CENTRAL HDW.
Sixth and Main.
"Service—Quality"

Sport Chatter

The Indians are coming, in the 1922 version of the late Mr. Revere's ride. The Speaker victories string out to nine straight, the longest winning streak of the season. Morton confined the Mack skitter to five hits while Wood and Speaker hit home runs with one man aboard. The Athletics lost 6 to 3.

Glad to escape its inhospitable confines, the Giants departed from St. Louis after losing the final of the series, 9 to 8. This gave the Cardinals three out of four and leaves them only half a game outside the league leadership today. It was a free-for-all slugging duel from first to last.

Nicholson went on a hitting spree, smiling two home runs off Ritchie, but the Reds went on winning from the Braves, 9 to 3. Boston's third run also was the result of a home run by Borekel.

In an opera bouffe exhibition, the

PACKARD

SINGLE SIX

The Ten Year Car.

Harry W. Trushel

Coshocton, Ohio.

FIVE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT

is what your receive on your money in

The Citizens Building and Loan Association Privilege of withdrawal. Liberal terms to borrowers.
G. F. Schauweker, Pres. C. B. Hunt, Secy.
"30 Years in Coshocton."

MOOSE LEGIONAIRES

You Are Requested To Be Present Tonight. At 6:30.
Moose Temple To Take Part in the Big Moose Parade.
Wear Your Fez.

Jas. Weston, Pres.

The line of Pianos we are handling are superior in quality. Our prices are lower because we buy more and buy for less. Seeing is convincing.

J. A. COMPTON.

Pastime Tonight, Tomorrow

ADMISSION
10c & 25c

Get the Song
Hear the Record
See the Picture

"The SHEIK of ARABY"

A magnificent revival of
"The Man Who Turned White"

EXTRA! BIG COMEDY!

Chacos Bros. TONIGHT AND THURSDAY

COME — LAUGH AGAIN WITH

CHARLES CHAPLIN

In A Revival Of One Of His Best

"A DOG'S LIFE"

All the laughs—the joys—the fun you had before—have them again—they're just as funny and may be you missed something before.

BROUGHT BACK BY SPECIAL REQUEST.

Also PRISCILLA DEAN in "WILD HONEY"
The World's Famous Novel by Cynthia Stockley.
DON'T FORGET! $300.00 IN PRIZES GIVEN AWAY.
SAVE YOUR COUPONS DAILY.

PERVERT CONFESSES MURDER OF BOY AT DAYTON LAST MAY

DAYTON, July 19.—The mystery surrounding the murder of Arthur Moore, 13-year-old Boy Scout, May 19, was cleared up at midnight by the voluntary confession made and reduced to writing by Irvin Layer, 38, home at large.

Layer, police say, is the moral pervert who has enticed or attempted to entice little boys and girls to go with him in promise of giving them rabbits. From this he was given the sobriquet of "rabbit man."

Yesterday he was placed under arrest while in the act of taking two young boys to the river. During a long grilling the denied the Moore boy's murder. Finally at midnight he broke down and sobbed out the entire story. He will be formally charged with first degree murder today.

NEW LOCATION

(Continued from Page One)

found to be loose and on the verge of slipping. It was bolstered up in a temporary manner, but even now the bridge is considered unsafe.

Other reports directly from Willis Creek Wednesday, indicated that the residents of that vicinity were not unduly alarmed over the condition of the bridge.

Recently, a proposal has been agitated, to move the bridge from its present location, to a spot a half mile farther down the creek. This would place the bridge just about on the Muskumung-Coshocton line. Willis Creek residents are quoted as opposing this proposal.

To move the bridge, it is estimated, the county would be at an expense of from $1,000 to $5,000. New piers can be placed under the bridge in its present location at an estimated cost of $1,500.

The present piers are made of stones weighing in the neighborhood of 200 pounds each. It has been suggested that if new piers are constructed out of concrete, the stones could be used to reinforce the creek bank.

It would be possible to brace the spanning pier with a concrete toe, it is said, but the work of constructing the toe would be hazardous.

RAYS OF HOPE

(Continued from Page One)

as the union is concerned, it is solely a question of tonnage, that is, if sufficient tonnage is represented by these operators favoring peaceful settlement then the miners are willing to talk business.

The operators who are directing the peace feeler have begun a careful canvass to determine how much tonnage they can secure in favor of holding a conference with the miners to reach a new national agreement.

The operators are badly split on the proposition, as they have been in nearly all their conferences in Washington, it is said some being outright in favoring a new national agreement and others being insistent upon "iron hand" tactics at this time when chances apparently are better than ever before for breaking the strong grip the United Mine Workers have maintained on the industry for years.

Some men for each side declined to discuss the peace venture today on any detail. It was "too early," they said. It was marked, however, that among officials and a number of operators remained over in Washington. The administration is not a party at this new thrust at the unity of the operators.

Would the government look approvingly on anything that will tend to bring an end to the present menacing situation, it was made plain to day that, so far as the president is concerned the die has been cast in the coal strike.

Most of the operators departed for their homes today to survey their districts. It was not before the split between the two factions had been more clearly emphasized.

A committee called the "tonnage committee" was appointed representing those operators who favor unconditional acceptance of President Harling's arbitration plan.

This organization will continue informal peace talk with the miners. A few operators remained in Washington to act as spokesmen should things develop to where one is needed here. It is understood a sharp disagreement occurred among the operators as to whether the peace advocates really represented a majority of the tonnage. The "die hard" faction among the operators also left for their districts, prepared to go ahead and run their mines under troop protection.

John L. Lewis, and his union representatives, probably will remain in Washington for a day or so, it was said, and then return to Indianapolis, where it is said, future peace moves will take place.

Little Red Schools Doomed in California

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—The little red school house is doomed. It is picturesque but inefficient.

Such was the statement of Sam H. Cohn, Assistant State Superintendent of State Instruction, in announcing the outcome of comparative tests recently held by the State Department of Education to determine the effectiveness of the rural educational system.

The State tests showed an alarming condition, Cohn said. City school children are from two to three years more advanced in mental development than rural students in similar grades. The school system employed in the country is responsible for this situation and not the students, it was declared.

The one room rural school is not a success as a teaching institution, Cohn said, and it is fast passing.

Eccentric Will Dated from 'The River Styx'

AKRON, Ohio, July 19.—A cello and a few other musical instruments constitute, it is said, the personal property making up the estate of the late Melville F. Wilson, Wadsworth, an eccentric musician, who ended his life in New York some weeks ago.

The will, dated "River Styx, August 27, 1907," has just been filed for probate. A cousin, Mrs. Hallic Harpley, of this city, was named as sole legatee of Wilson's personal property.

Ohio Farmer Is Owner Of Five-Legged Duck

POWHATAN, Ohio, July 19.—Paul Ramsey, farmer, residing near here, has a five-legged duck. It was hatched a few days ago on Ramsey's farm. The duck is healthy and walks on the usual two legs as readily as does any normal duckling, and is not handicapped by its excess of pedal extremities.

CANNING CLUB MEETS

The Keene Canning Club will meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, July 21, in the basement of the Keene school. A good attendance is desired. The members are requested to bring their record books.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

MAXWELL, touring car, A1 shape mechanically, starter, battery, etc. Bargain price and terms to suit buyer. Will exchange for cows. 621 Fair-st. near Kenilworth-av.

$55 beautiful oval glass buffet only $20. Fine mahogany music cabinet, cost $55, first $10 takes it. Other articles. 621 Fair-st. near Kenilworth-av.

FOR RENT—Large furnished front room. Modern conveniences and good location. Inquire 1131 East Main-st.

FOR RENT—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Suitable for Chautauqua visitors, less than 2 squares from tent. Bath and electric lights. 204 north Ninth-st. phone 1187.

CLOSING OUT SALE

THREE more days and everything must go regardless of price. Fruit jars 2c each, cups, saucers and plates 2c each. Lots of all kinds of goods for mere nothing. 124 north Fifth-st.

FOR SALE—Five room house, modern conveniences. Inquire Ernest Stocker, 813 Kenilworth-av or phone 422.

FOR RENT—160 acres, eight miles southeast of Millersburg. Six room house, barn 40x70, good tillable soil, orchard and spring water. This summer's grain to be cut on shares. Inquire of Nettie L. Foreman, Burton, Leuga-co, O.

W. F. GARVER IS AN IDEAL CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATE

Every county in this district has had a State Senator since Holmes. W. F. Garver, a Holmes county Democrat, was first a farmer and teacher. Has practiced law 26 years. His only child is the wife of a farmer residing near Spring Mountain, in Coshocton county. He served two terms as State Representative where he introduced 7 bills which became laws. Read what the press said of his work:

"W. F. Garver of Holmes county has won honors for long continued hard work. He has stayed on the job from start to finish, working over every bill which came to his committee and studied others which he supported or opposed. He has known the effect of bills and explained provisions as much as any other member. His big bill books are filled with notations on the measures, and his volumes of the code are well worn with the numerous references he has made in determining what changes were sought by authors of bills. Garver is impetuous and filled with earnestness." Cleveland Plain Dealer of May 13, 1915. On his record as citizen, farmer, teacher, lawyer, and legislator he asks your support.

W. F. GARVER.

Grange

JACKSON
The Jackson grange members will give the program of July 6 at the grange hall on their next regular meeting night, Thursday, July 20. The Jackson grangers will hold their annual picnic in the Dean Brothers' grove on August 10.

FRANKLIN
Regular meeting of the Franklin grange Tuesday evening, July 25. The program, which was to have been given at the last meeting, will be given at this meeting.

MOHAWK
Mohawk grange will give the first and second degree to a class of candidates Friday evening, July 21, after which a surprise feature will be given.

Thursday morning special, $1.00 light percale Bungalow Aprons 75c each. Anderson-Hack Co.

LEGION BAND HELPS FILL LOCAL MOVIE

The American Legion band of thirty-two pieces from Ralph Court-right Post No. 65 gave a splendid concert at the Utahna theatre Monday evening. Following the concert the picture, "The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe," was screened.

Preceding the concert the band paraded in line with at least a hundred children. They marched west on Main-st. to Second-st. south on south Second-st. to Walnut-st. east on Walnut to Park-av. where they went north and then west down Main-st. again to the theatre.

A good crowd attended the concert and saw the picture.

Thursday morning special, $1.00 and $1.25 extra fine fancy turkish towels 75c each. Anderson-Hack Co.

Is Operated Upon

Miss Ora Veau, of Warsaw Route 2, underwent a major operation at the City hospital, Wednesday. The operation was performed by Dr. Jesse McClain, Dr. F. M. Marshall and Dr. E. C. Carr.

Thursday morning special, 25c all white bordered Huck Towels 5 for $1.00. Anderson-Hack Co.

UNCLAIMED MAIL

Mrs. Amy Ashcraft, Burn Aronholt, Albert Bryant, Mrs. Lovena Clark, Carlos Albert Cox, Mrs. Carrie Cox, Edward Doll, Purdy Elthworth, George Felton, Robert Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flint, Mrs. W. H. Frost, 215 East Third-st., Ethel Hoover, C. F. Hoffman, Hotel, W. V. Johnson, Mrs. Forest Kemp, Bertha Leonard, H. E. Miller, A. J. Quigley, Mrs. Mary Randle, A. C. Reed, Bill Swann, Mrs. Eva Ulrich, Miss Eva Wilden.

Thursday morning special, $5.00 extra fine full size bed spreads $4.00. Anderson-Hack Co.

TODAY'S INCORPORATIONS

COLUMBUS, July 19.—The Sharpe Motor Co., Canton, $25,000. C. D. Yengling, R. P. Sharpe. The Zanesville Hotel Co., Zanesville, $500,000. O. J. Raile, F. M. Ransbottom. The Ohio Paper Box Co., Cincinnati. Decrease $56,000 to $28,000.

Thursday morning special, 15c large Turkish bath cloths 11c each. Anderson-Hack Co.

STATIONARY ENGINEERS

All members of Local 567 attend meeting tonight, 7 o'clock, at Labor hall. Special business.

New Sport Ratine

INCLUDED IN OUR MID-SUMMER SALE AT

79c

The usual price has been disregarded in the offering of these new Sport Shirts.

—The woman who desires the new Ratine Fringed or Plain Skirts should see our display and make her selection at once. These materials promised and has proven to be the most preferred Skirtings for Mid-Summer wear.

Ransom's

Coshocton's Busiest, Best Store

COLUMBUS MAN IS HONORED AT NAT'L B. & L. CONVENTION

J. E. KINNEY,
President The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company, Columbus, O.

James E. Kinney, of Columbus, president of the Buckeye State Building & Loan Co., has just been elected president of the United States League of Building & Loan Associations at the national convention of the organization held at Portland, Maine. He will have jurisdiction over the national organization of building and loan men comprising nearly 8,000 building and loan institutions, located in every state in the United States.

The honor came to Mr. Kinney because of the outstanding position of the building and loan associations in Ohio.

Central Plumbing Co.,
Plumbing and Heating. Phone 387.

WAGE-FIXING BY LAW ADVOCATED BY CANDIDATE

COLUMBUS, July 19.—"Wage standards for women and children in industry should be fixed by law so that fair employers of the state will not be handicapped by the competition of the unfair ones," declared Thomas J. Duffy, Columbus, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Stating that the summer heat tends to dull the voters' interest, Duffy recommended that the primaries be held in the middle of September. He also asserted that more attention should be paid to proper housing conditions for state wards.

Duffy promised that, if elected, he would restore the state utilities commission to its intended place as a protector of public rights against excessive utilities rates.

Central Plumbing Co.,
Plumbing and Heating. Phone 387.

NOTICE

Spanish War Veterans
Meeting tonight of great importance to all veterans. Chas. Burch, Q. M.

MARKETS By Wire

CHICAGO GRAIN CLOSE
CHICAGO, July 19.—Wheat July 112 @ 1/4; Sept 110 1/4 @ 111; Dec 113 1/4 @ 114. Corn July 63; Sept 64 1/4 @ 64; Dec 61 1/4. Oats July 34 1/4; Sept 35 1/4; Dec 38 1/4. Lard July 110 1/2; Sept 111 1/2; Oct 112 1/2. Ribs July 10 1/2; Sept 10 1/2 @ 10 1/2; Oct 10 1/2.

TOLEDO CASH GRAIN
TOLEDO, July 19.—Clover seed cash 1300; Oct and Dec 1110. Alsike cash and Aug and Dec 1050; Dec 1060 bid. Timothy cash 270; Sept 267 1/2; Oct 280 bid; Dec 285 bid. Wheat cash 112 to 114 1/2; July 113; Sept 113; Dec 116. Corn cash 72 1/4 @ 72 1/4. Oats cash 40 1/2 @ 40 1/2. Rye cash 80. Barley cash 66.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CANDIDATES

Editor Tribune & Times-Age:
Will you please announce my name as a candidate for Clerk of Courts of Coshocton-co, subject to the will of the Democratic primary, August 8, 1922. EDITH M. BURRELL.

OHIO OPERATORS DUBIOUS TOWARD HARDING'S PLAN

COLUMBUS, O., July 19.—Ohio coal operators here have assumed a skeptical attitude towards President Harding's "invitation" to re-open the coal mines.

Most of the operators are of the opinion that any attempt at actual operations would mean "hell-a-popping." What to do with the coal after it is mined is another problem, with the railroad strike holding up transportation, according to one owner of large coal holdings.

Coal mine owners, willing to risk actual operations under the open shop plan, want the concentrated efforts of both troops and railway facilities, instead of any attempt being made to operate all of the mines of the state.

Thursday morning special, $1.00 silk gloves, Black, white and colors 75c pair. Anderson-Hack Co.

ATTENTION, MOOSE DEFENDERS!

PLEASE REPORT
TONIGHT AT 6:30, MOOSE TEMPLE
FULL BLUE DRESS FOR THE BIG MOOSE PARADE.
CAPTAIN.

Willard Batteries

GUY R. TARNEY
Phone 957
236 Main St.

Daughters Named

A daughter was born Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cutshall, at their home in Fresno. The infant has been named Mary Ellen.

The daughter born The day after noon to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark, 279 John-st., has been named Gertrude Leone.

NOTICE

To Contractors and the Public

—Owing to Ohio Lumbermen's Picnic being held at Riverside Park, the following lumber companies will be closed all day Saturday, July 22nd:

Thos. Collopy Lumber Co.
Coshocton Lumber Co
Gleason Lumber Co.

CITY MARKET "The Food Center"

|                                   |     |
|-----------------------------------|-----|
| Calf Brains, lb.                  | 18c |
| Tender Chuck, lb.                 | 17c |
| Steak, lb.                        | 28c |
| Cream Cheese, lb.                 | 28c |
| WE CLOSE AT NOON                  |     |
| Climax Macaroni, pkg.             | 11c |
| Fancy Pink Salmon, 1 lb. tall can | 14c |
| for Parowax, 1 lb. pkg.           | 10c |

YELLOW FRONT
COR. SIXTH & MAIN
Any Sized Order Delivered for 5c. Telephone 1517

SPECIAL MEETING

CENTRAL TRADES & LABOR COUNCIL
TONIGHT AT 7:30 P. M.